Gettysburg, Pa., November 12.—A devoted Collie's incessant barking so annoyed the neighbors that they came to see if Miss Flora Hartzell, 82, its owner, couldn't stop it. They found her unconscious in the garden after a paralytic attack.

OVERCOATS MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE IN FLORIDA SEASON

Tampa, Fla., November 12.—(AP)—Overcoats made their first appearance of the season in central Florida yesterday, as winter rode into the far south with clear, cool atmosphere. W. J. Bennett, weather bureau head, said temperatures dropped to the lowest mark since early last spring.

SOUTH'S MEDICAL MEN OPEN ANNUAL MEETING

Speakers Warn Against Quackery; Doctors Test New Apparatus.

Asheville, N. C., November 12.—(AP)—Spending a day studying new apparatus, new methods and the latest scientific discoveries, the members of the Southern Medical association, in annual convention here, turned to the city auditorium tonight to hear Dr. William R. Bathurst, of Little Rock, Ark., deliver the president's address. Dr. Bathurst took as his topic the mounting problem of obtaining the best medical and scientific service for the middle class people who are too well off to accept charity and too poor to pay the fees set for the rich. He said that upon the middle class rests the welfare of the world and urged that the problem of giving them access to the great wealth of scientific knowledge amassed by the medical profession be deeply considered.

Hubig's famous honeyfruit PIES 100% PURE

A word of warning was issued by Dr. Bathurst about permitting scientific discoveries to be bandied about "by overzealous, untrained, and half-baked agencies essaying to conquer disease by presuming to perform the duties of the health officer and experts in preventive medicine." "With ampoules and hypodermic syringes," he said these half-baked agencies "do not hesitate to invade homes with a ruthless indiscriminate boldness to 'shoot' whole families into a state of delectable and unusual immunization."

Two orations were also a part of the same program, one on medicine, entitled "Dermatology (Including Syphilis) and the Family Physician," by Dr. George M. Mackee, of New York city, and the other on surgery, entitled "The Evolution of Surgical Teaching in the United States," by Dr. Alton Oschner, of New Orleans.

YOUTH SENTENCED TO DEATH IN CHAIR FOR SLAYING THREE
Louisville, Ky., November 12.—(AP)—Oscar Pearson, 19, accused of killing three men here on October 2, 1917, today was sentenced to die in the electric chair January 13, 1929, by Judge A. T. Burgevin. Pearson was found guilty of the killing in criminal court June 9, and given a death penalty. Before passing sentence, Judge Burgevin announced that he overruled a motion for a new trial. Counsel for Pearson announced the case would be carried to the court of appeals.

ENGINEERS BATTLE CALIFORNIA GAS BLAZE

Los Angeles, November 12.—(AP)—Engineers today took the offensive in their fight against the blazing gas well at Santa Fe Springs, near here, which thus far has cost one life and about $1,000,000 and has paralyzed all production activity in the rich oil area.

Since the gas well caught fire when it blew in last week, the fire fighters have been kept busy establishing defensive lines. Several oil derricks had to be razed and other precautions taken to prevent the spread of the blaze to other parts of the field.

Last night it was declared that the defensive measures were completed and that an effort to snuff out the gigantic finger of fire would be made at once with steam lines and mud pipes. If this method fails, the fighters will resort to tunnelling. The tunnelling method was employed recently to extinguish another gas well fire in the field. A long tunnel was dug, connecting with the well casing 60 feet below the surface and the flow of gas was diverted, causing the fire at the mouth of the well to die out. It is estimated that 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas is being consumed by the fire every 24 hours. The blaze shoots into the air about 100 feet and the earth about the well trembles. Because of the heat, streams of water are played upon fighters when they work near the blaze.

2 SAILORS, COOK ARE RESCUED OFF DERELICT SHIP

Wilmington, N. C., November 12.—(AP)—The coast guard cutter Modoc this afternoon received a radio message from the steamer Huron saying she had rescued two sailors and the cook of the schooner Jacob W. Hook and that the schooner was derelict and a menace to navigation. The message gave no other information.

The message said that the schooner was at latitude 33.37 north; longitude 74.43 west. This is about 150 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras.

GIRLS! KEEP AWAY FROM N. Y. IF YOU HAVEN'T GOT $75

New York, November 12.—(AP)—Girls who haven't at least $75 in cash and a complete outfit of good-looking office clothes were advised today to stay away from New York by Cornelia Marshall, president of the Association to Promote Proper Housing for New York.

Her advice, she said, was based on reports from an investigating committee on the cost of living while hunting a job and from canvases of New York city employers.

The canvases of employers, she said, netted this: "We would rather engage a girl who looks smart, but is untrained, than a competent worker who does not look smart. We can teach a girl to know her work, but we cannot teach her how to dress."

Apple Fritters
One scant cup flour, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-3 teaspoon salt; 2 eggs; 1 teaspoon salad oil; 2-3 cup milk; 1 cup thinly sliced and chopped apples; 1 teaspoon baking powder; sift together dry ingredients, then beat in milk, egg yolks and salad oil, stir in fruit, fold in whipped egg whites and drop by small tablespoonful into salad oil heated to 350 degrees. Cook 10 minutes, spread on brown paper, dust with sugar and serve with fruit sauce or syrup.

Combination Salad
Equal parts of chopped celery, cabbage and apples to which add small portion of chopped green peppers and nuts. Mix well and serve on lettuce leaf garnished with mayonnaise and maraschino cherry.

Fruit Cocktail
Chill can of "Libby's Fruits for Salad" and add to this 1½ cups of chopped apples. This practically doubles your service and gives a flavor greatly desired—serve in cocktail glasses.

Fried Apple Rings
Wash and core apples, slice in rings and fry in deep fat until brown, drain on brown paper, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and serve with crisp bacon or breakfast sausage.

Apples in Jelly
Five apples, 1½ cups sugar; 1½ cups water; ¼ cup raisins; 1 small bottle maraschino cherries; 2 tablespoons gelatin—soak in ½ cup water; juice one lemon; cook sugar and water into syrup; peel and core apples; stuff with raisins and cherries; place in syrup and cook until tender; take out carefully and place on hot deep dish; add lemon, cherry juice and gelatin to syrup, when thoroughly dissolved and cool pour around and over apples.

Apple Custard
Two cups of apples that have been stewed and run through sieve; 3 egg yolks; 1 cup sugar; 1 tablespoon butter; pinch salt; season with nutmeg and cinnamon; bake in pastry and cover with meringue made of 3 egg whites and 3 tablespoons of sugar.

Apple Dumpling
Cut pastry in rounds with saucer; cut apples in pieces, place in center with sugar; lump of butter, little cinnamon or lemon juice. Bring dough over fruit, pressing together in middle. Fill pan with these, sprinkle with sugar and butter, pouring over water enough to make a syrup. Serve with hard butter sauce.

Hard Sauce
Cream equal parts of butter and sugar and flavor with Sauer's vanilla extract. Place on ice and serve on apple dumplings.

Apple Charlotte
One level teaspoonful gelatin, ¼ cup cold water; ¼ cup boiling water; 1 cup sugar; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 cup cooked apple pulp; white of 3 eggs; lady fingers; salt; soak gelatin in cold water five minutes and dissolve in boiling water, add sugar and lemon juice, strain, cool slightly and add apple pulp. When mixture begins to thicken beat with wire whisk until light, then add white of eggs and beat. Turn into mold lined with lady fingers. One pint whipped cream may be used in place of whites of eggs.

RED MEN WILL GATHER IN ATLANTA SATURDAY

Ladies of Degree of Pochontas Also Will Be in Attendance.

Everything is in readiness for the fourth annual convention of the Atlanta district school of instruction, Improved Order of Red Men, which will convene here Saturday afternoon and night, according to Fletcher W. Laird, district chief of records.

The convention will be attended by representatives of Red Men and ladies of the degree of Pochontas from all over the state and is expected to draw one of the largest attendances in the history of the district school.

The sessions will be held in the wigwam, 160 Central avenue, S. W., and will begin at 3 o'clock with registration of visitors. At 3:30 p. m. the business sessions of both the Red Men and Pochontas will be held. Election of new officers, reading of membership reports and discussion of the "Publicity Bureau Class Adoption" membership campaign now in progress all over the state will be special features of the business sessions.

The activities for the night will include a buffet luncheon in the auditorium at 6 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the program will be featured by competitive degree contests and a flag ceremony. At 7:30 p. m. Pochontas council, No. 28, Degree of Pochontas, will drape the charter in honor of deceased members. At 8 p. m. competitive degree contest will be held, when several tribes' degree staff and councils degree of Pochontas are expected to compete for the banner.

REV. N. H. R. MOOR
TO BEGIN Y. M. C. A.
LECTURES TONIGHT

The Rev. N. H. High Moor, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, tonight will give the first of a series of lectures of the Bible Study club of the Young Men's Christian association. His subject for this series will be "Life on a Bounding Tide," and will be a unique presentation of successful living with a Biblical background. Mr. Moore was one of the four leaders of the Bible Study club last season and gave one of the most successful series of lectures ever presented before the club.

Supper is served in the dining room of the Association building at 6:15 o'clock. The lecture follows immediately after supper and ends promptly at 7:30 o'clock. There will be special music every Tuesday night under the direction of Robert E. Mell, well known Atlanta singer, and A. T. Neal, pianist. All young men of the city, whether members of the association or not, are invited.

O'KEEFE OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED
ON NOVEMBER 28

Max Milligan, newly-elected president of the O'Keefe Junior High school student government, together with his running-mate, Vice President Dixie Woolford, will be inaugurated at special exercises in the Baptist tabernacle on November 28.

The O'Keefe student government is organized on a plan fashioned after the United States government, and is based on a two-party system, the white party and the green party, constituting the political factors. With last week spent in campaigning and elections, the green party, led by the Milligan-Woolford ticket, emerged victorious.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM
Rotarians To Commemorate
Day at Lunch Today.

Commemorating signing of the armistice ten years ago, members of the Atlanta Rotary club will feature an Armistice day program at the regular meeting at 12:30 o'clock today in the Capital City club. The Rev. N. H. High Moor, on "Soldiers of Peace," and Frank Miller, on "War Babies," are scheduled to make the principal addresses.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE
DAVIS SLAYING TODAY

Weaver Admits Stabbing, But Claims That He Acted in Self-Defense.

Grand jury investigation of the death of Tom C. Davis, of 399 Loomis avenue, Sunday night following a poker game at the home of W. E. Nell, 152 Edgewood avenue, is scheduled for today, according to the solicitor's office.

Raymond L. Weaver, of 242 Josephine street, is in custody as Davis' alleged slayer, police charging that Weaver cut Davis' throat during an altercation which grew out of the poker game. Weaver gave himself up early Monday morning on hearing that Davis' wound had proved fatal, claiming that he used his knife in self-defense, and that he left the scene immediately and went home and did not know until later that Davis had died.

Witnesses to the slaying were questioned Monday morning at the solicitor's office, their statements being taken down.

To Air Hulme Shooting.

The fatal shooting of Paul Hulme, 16-year-old student, who was found dead in a grove of trees near Forrest road on November 3, also will be probed by the grand jury today, according to the solicitor's office. The bullet which killed Hulme was fired by Robert Pettit, of 1381 Morning-side drive, who admitted that he, in company with Paul Seymour, of 587 Willow street, had been firing a .45-caliber automatic pistol in the Forrest road vicinity the afternoon Hulme was shot, according to police.

Police said they discovered that a bullet hole in the signboard was in direct line with the position where Pettit had fired the pistol and the place where Hulme was found. Probation of Pettit and Seymour was revoked by Judge John D. Humphries Friday, and the youths were ordered to serve 11 months on the chain-gang. The two boys pleaded guilty to entering a church with intent to steal, and were sentenced to 12 months each for a misdemeanor, the sentences having been probated on October 15.

HUNTERS' OPINION ON "SPLIT SEASON" FOR DOVES SOUGHT

The opinion of hunters of Georgia relative to a "split season" on doves is being sought by Peter S. Twitty, state game and fish commissioner. A conference with federal officials is to be held by commissioners of southern states soon and Mr. Twitty desires to know what the Georgia hunters think of this plan. Under the split season, hunters would be permitted to shoot doves in September before they migrate further south for the winter months and later would be permitted to hunt doves in the open season which begins November 20. The government has been considering a plan to repeal its laws to allow such a season.

TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEET TONIGHT

Plans have been completed for the mass meeting to be held at the E. Rivers school, on Peachtree road, at 9 o'clock tonight for the purpose of discussing plans for securing a high school for the north side of the city. The gathering will be featured by talks by a number of prominent Atlanta citizens, including Charles Shelton, Judge Luther Rosser, Edwin Johnson, Ben Conyers, Shepherd Bryan, Walter Dillon, Holling Jones, III, Judge Walter Colquitt, Philip McDuffee, ex-Governor J. M. Slaton and Jere Wells, superintendent of Fulton county schools.

Special guests for the occasion will be the county commissioners and Miss Bessie Kempton, Luther Still and Dr. Alfred Brown, members of the state legislature. In addition, the public and all those interested in the proposition of securing a north side high school are urged to be present.

The mass meeting will be preceded by a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Two Pairs of Trousers

Two-button young man's suit, natural shoulders, slightly form-fitting, long lapels—a model that reflects the present day mode without being in any sense extreme.

Materials are worsteds, chevots and soft unfinished worsteds, in a wide variety of new patterns and a large range of autumn shades in which the warm forest browns, lively grays and deep blues are much in evidence.

The "happy medium", as applied to the purchase price of men's clothing, is fittingly portrayed in the "Cambridge" model which the artist has sketched in the impressionistic light-and-shadow technique.

Also, it clearly exemplifies the unusual style value, and the equally remarkable intrinsic value embraced in suits which the Men's Shops offer at the nominal price of thirty-five dollars.

A good example, we might say, of the extraordinary effort put forth by this department to excel in all the major factors which interest men in the purchase of clothing.

When you feel the cloth, examine the workmanship, and then slip into one of the coats and note how nicely it is moulded to your own neck and shoulders, you immediately sense those superlative features which give them individuality.

Type does not convey these thoughts in the forceful pleasing way that the suits themselves will impress you. You must put on one of these suits to appreciate these facts fully.

Incidentally, you might take a look while here at the other attractive suits in our wide price range of

Listerine kills 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds

Did you realize that Listerine was so powerful?

Hard to believe, isn't it, when you reflect how pleasant and safe Listerine is?

Yet in repeated tests employing the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ, used by the Government to test antiseptics, full strength Listerine killed 200 millions in 15 seconds!

Now you can understand why you should use Listerine to check ordinary colds and sore throat—both caused by germs.

Keep a bottle handy and use it daily, especially after exposure to germ-laden crowds. It helps you ward off trouble. Write for our elaborate free book: "Personal Hygiene."

Address the Lambert Pharmacal Co., Dept. S-4, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

COLDS
Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food.

ROYAL OFFICE MERGED WITH QUEEN CO. HERE

Milton Dargan Retires; S. Y. Tupper To Manage Enlarged Offices.

With the retirement of Manager Milton Dargan of the southern department of the Royal Insurance company, the Newark Fire and Georgia Fire Underwriters at Atlanta, after 40 years of service, the head office of the Royal announced Monday the consolidation of the southern departmental offices of the Royal and Queen Insurance company at Atlanta under the management of Manager S. Y. Tupper, now southern manager of the Queen, effective January 1, 1929.

It was announced also that the Royal group is arranging for the consolidation of its offices in the southern department and that from January 1 the offices of the Royal, Queen and Newark in Chicago will be supervised by the joint management of Manager Edwin W. Law of the Royal and Manager E. P. Hamilton, with the departmental titles of Managers Law and Hamilton.

Merger Effects Economy.
In the notices of companies, sent out to their agents, the advantages of the consolidations are mentioned. The Royal's head office states that it is quite apparent that the position of all of the companies will be strengthened by the move, which not only means economy in administration, but also much greater facilities for caring for the needs of the individual agents and for conserving the interests of the company group as a whole.

The announcement states that there are no anticipated changes among the junior officials or agency arrangements and that the routine business of the combined offices will continue as formerly.

Under the consolidation plan of the companies, Southern Manager Tupper of the Queen will become the head of the Royal group in the south and will have supervision of the Royal, Queen, Newark and Georgia Fire underwriters, according to the plans, the Queen's offices will be transferred from the Trust Company of Georgia building to the Hurt building, where the Royal's offices now are located, as soon after the close of the present year as possible.

Officials Transferred.
Going from the Queen will be Assistant Managers R. L. Clett and George W. Gault and Agency Secretary John A. Fischer. Remaining with the Royal's department will be Assistant Managers W. Quinn Slaughter and B. F. Weaver and Agency Secretary John M. Harrison. There are no contemplated changes in field forces or agency arrangements of the companies.

Mr. Dargan's extensive knowledge of the insurance business has been gained over a business lifetime devoted almost entirely to that field. A native of Sumter, S. C., he attended Furman university and later studied at the United States naval academy at Annapolis. His first connection with the insurance business was begun in 1883 when he was employed as a clerk in the Dallas, Texas, offices of Dargan and Trezevant. From that time until 1902 he was successively connected with the Association of Fire Underwriters of Texas, the Queen of Liverpool Insurance company, the Lancashire Insurance company; in the latter company he was manager of the eastern and southern departments until 1901 when the company was reinsured and retired.

26 Years With Royal.
The following year he began his connection with the Royal company, an association which continued for 26 years. The new manager of the consolidated offices, S. Y. Tupper, while a younger man than his predecessor, is, like him, a thoroughgoing insurance man and executive. A son of the Tupper who was instrumental in giving to the Queen

Shoots Alleged Home-Breaker Then Is Baptized in Church

POLICE GUARD ATTENDS CEREMONY

Lakewood, Fla., November 12.—(AP)—D. S. Hough, a painter, yesterday shot and perhaps fatally wounded S. B. Cook, whom he accused with intimacy with Mrs. Hough, and a few hours later was baptized under police guard at the First Baptist church with his wife.

Hough was returned to jail, and today was held without bond pending outcome of Cook's wounds.

The painter and his wife were returning from church where they had pledged themselves to baptism when they saw Cook at the home of one of his friends.

Hough told police to whom he voluntarily surrendered, that he went home for his gun and returned, forcing Mrs. Hough to accompany him. He called Cook into the street, he said, and in sight of his wife, shot him four times. He told the authorities Cook had broken up his home. He asked for "time off" to attend the baptism ceremony, and went with his wife, accompanied by officers. She also was baptized.

Do children notice Oboy advertising?

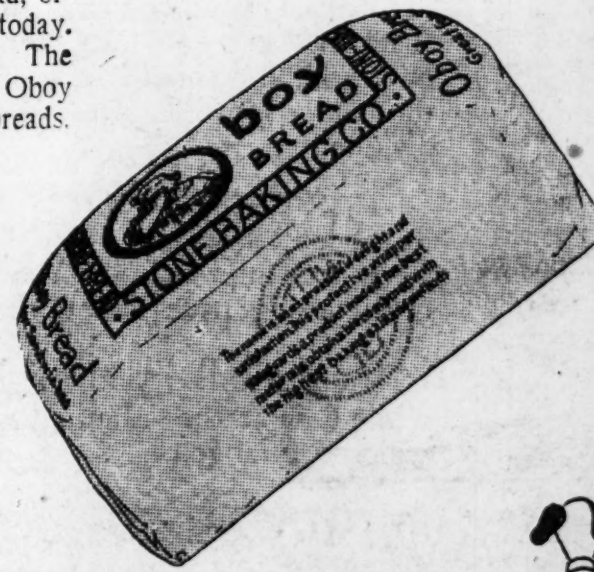

You bet they do. It's made to appeal to them—just like Oboy Bread. For we want every child in Atlanta to know about Oboy. It's the kind of bread they need every meal.

Oboy is extra rich in nutriment. Wonderful for growing kiddies. Builds muscle and bone. Brings health and vigor.

And it's so delicious children can't seem to get enough of it. Mothers never have to wheedle them into eating plenty of Oboy. Tempting snow-white center. Flaky, crumbly crust. My, it's good!

Oboy has made a great hit with Atlanta. Different from all other breads. Its firm texture makes it stay fresh longer. And such a wholesome, appetizing flavor!

If you haven't tried Oboy Bread, order a loaf from your grocer today. See how oven-fresh it tastes. The two-blue wrapper protects it. Oboy costs no more than ordinary breads.

CONGREGATIONAL BODY WILL ASSEMBLE TODAY

Plans to Merge With Christian Church Will Be Considered by Board

Meeting at the Central Congregational church this morning for the first session of a two-day gathering, the advisory board of the Congregational church will make special consideration of plans to merge the national council of Congregational churches with the general convention of the Christian church.

Work of the Congregational church in Georgia, Alabama, the Carolinas, Florida and Tennessee will be dealt with extensively, but the greatest interest is attached to the merger plan which would mean the virtual unification of the two large Protestant groups.

The program for this morning will be opened by Dr. J. Edward Kirby, of Raleigh, N. C., who will conduct the devotionals.

Reviews of Work.

Reviews of the church's work will be given by the various superintendents. Dr. Neil McQuarrie, of Atlanta, will give the review for the district of which he is superintendent and which includes Georgia and Alabama. Dr. Fred P. Enstinger, of Nashville, Tenn., then will give the report from the district made up of Tennessee, Kentucky and the Carolinas. Dr. E. C. Gillette, of Jacksonville, Fla., will give the report of the Florida district.

The message from the national secretaries of the church will be read by Dr. W. Knight Bloom, of Washington. The last speaker on the program will be Dr. Ernest M. Halliday, who will give a general address on church problems and will discuss the proposed merger.

Definite Action Wednesday.

More sessions will be held Wednesday, and at that time it is expected that some definite action will be taken on the proposal in the form of recommendations of resolutions.

The conference of the board is being attended by many figures nationally prominent in the Congregational church. Among the celebrated visitors are Mrs. D. Foster Updike, of New York, associate secretary of the national Congregational commission on missions; Rev. Ernest M. Halliday, of New York, general secretary of the national Congregational church extension board; Rev. W. Knight Bloom, of Washington, secretary of the national department of the commission; Rev. Charles C. Merrill, of Chicago, secretary of promotion of the national Congregational commission on missions; Rev. E. C. Gillette, of Jacksonville, superintendent of the national Congregational church extension board; and Rev. Edwin C. Gillette, of Jacksonville, superintendent of the Florida Congregational conference.

HEIRS OF DR. BOMAR LOSE IN TEST CASE

Judge Humphries Holds That Sale of Property Was Legal.

Heirs of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Lumpkin Haynes Bomar, suing for recovery of 12 acres of Marietta street property alleged to have been sold without authority by Dr. B. F. Bomar, an early mayor of Atlanta, as trustee for his wife, received a setback Monday when Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, decided in a test case that Dr. Bomar had tried to drown his remorse in drink, confessed to his part in the drowning.

Pritz, with Stevens and William Maher, he said, was coming home after a drinking bout at Coney Island. Pritz and Maher quarreled and Pritz was flung into the river from the Harlem river speedway. He regained the shore, but as he lay on the bank exposed, Maher and another member of the party, Stevens said, pushed him into the stream again.

Stevens was arrested on his own confession, but Maher and Pritz were charged with homicide.

Sold For $3,000.

The land sold for $3,000 in 1862, and its worth today is estimated at many times that amount. It fronts the north side of Marietta street 411 feet, and is the Curran and Eighth streets section.

The suits were brought by the Bomar heirs under the title of John D. vs. Richard Roe et al, and the test case was that of the heirs against Miss L. A. Sadler. Judge Humphries directed a verdict for Miss Sadler at the close of the evidence. The heirs are listed as follows: Thomas H. R. H. Sadler, E. J. E. Mrs. B. E. J. W. and Lucy Bomar, Mrs. Mildred Mae Barker, Mrs. Anna Brown, J. C. Sarah, R. P. and J. H. Evans, E. F. Charles H. T. D. and Julia L. Killiam, and Mrs. Louise K. Pittman.

Consent Not Obtained. Claim. The heirs contend that Dr. Bomar, acting as trustee for his wife and children, sold the property without the written consent of Mrs. Bomar, the life tenant, and that the deed conveyed no title.

The land was sold by Dr. Bomar to Cicero H. Chandler, and in turn went through the following ownerships: Chandler to Capel McLendon, to Dutehoefer and Daniel, Daniel to Dutehoefer, to David R. Dillon, to Joseph Holman, to W. H. Nutting, trustee, to E. C. Roberts, trustee for a syndicate. The syndicate subdivided the tract.

McClendon and Scott represent the Bomar heirs, while the defendants are represented by Virgil E. Adams.

THREE DEAD, 2 HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO AT CROSSING

Cobleskill, N. Y., November 12.—(AP)—Three men were killed and two injured when a Delaware and Hudson passenger train struck an automobile at a grade crossing in this village today.

The dead: Joseph Mead, 24, August Celande, 30, Philip Derizick, 25.

The dead were found in the wreckage of the automobile, which was carried for some distance by the locomotive.

Boy Was Pushed Into River, Man Admits to Father

New York, November 12.—(AP)—Hunted by the memory of his part in the drowning of a 19-year-old boy a year ago, Henry Stevens, 32, blurted out the story of the boy's death to the bereaved father. He was in jail today charged with homicide.

In July, 1927, the body of William Pritz was found from the Harlem river. The father was convinced the boy had met with foul play but he could not unravel the mystery of his death. Henry Stevens, who said he had tried to drown his remorse in drink, confessed to his part in the drowning.

Pritz, with Stevens and William Maher, he said, was coming home after a drinking bout at Coney Island. Pritz and Maher quarreled and Pritz was flung into the river from the Harlem river speedway. He regained the shore, but as he lay on the bank exposed, Maher and another member of the party, Stevens said, pushed him into the stream again.

Stevens was arrested on his own confession, but Maher and Pritz were charged with homicide.

JURY QUIZ ON TO FIND IF AIMEE BRIBED KEYES

Los Angeles, November 12.—(AP)—The Los Angeles county grand jury went through today into the question of whether Asa Keyes, former district attorney, had bribed Aimee Semple McPherson, or her aides and associates, for dropping charges of conspiracy to defraud justice which had been brought against the evangelist and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

What the jury finds out or intends to establish is whether or not Aimee Semple McPherson, or her aides and associates, for dropping charges of conspiracy to defraud justice which had been brought against the evangelist and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

The charges grew out of Mrs. McPherson's story that she had been kidnapped by three persons and taken to Mexico and held for ransom as explaining her mysterious disappearance for a month more than two years ago. Kenneth C. Ormiston, former radio man at the temple, who was alleged to have occupied a cottage at Carmel, Calif., with the evangelist during her absence, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, Slaff, otherwise known as "Miss X," who said at the time it was she and not Mrs. McPherson who was in Carmel with Ormiston, were two of the witnesses called to testify, possibly tomorrow.

Investigation of the McPherson angle grew out of charges that Keyes took large bribes from persons implicated in the alleged frauds connected with sales of stock of the Julian Petroleum corporation. Several persons were indicted in connection with these alleged frauds but only one man was tried and he was acquitted. This led the grand jury to inquire whether there may be grounds for bribery accusations in other cases under Keyes' jurisdiction.

There is much documentary evidence before the jury in the McPherson case. Much of it is said to have been turned over by newspaper men. There also is a trunk said to contain important evidence. The trunk belongs to the evangelist, who is now in Europe.

The newspaper men said they got the evidence from Mrs. Kennedy, who has been at odds with her daughter for some months.

AIMEE WILL REFUSE TO TESTIFY AGAIN.

London, November 12.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, who is nearing the close of her evangelical campaign in England, tonight declared utterly untrue the charges brought in California that Asa Keyes, former district attorney, took money from her or her associates to drop charges against her.

"I imagine it is some political dodge," she told reporters in Bristol. "It is just the sort of thing we get around election time. It is a case of one party wanting to get Keyes out and others wanting him in. Anybody who happens to be in the middle of the road is a football between them."

There was no payment made at all. I was freed because a woman who made the charges confessed that she lied, and that she was hired to tell the stories."

Mrs. McPherson is to hold farewell meetings in Albert hall, London, on Wednesday and Thursday, and last week engaged passengers on the liner Columbus which sails on Friday for New York.

Mrs. McPherson stated in a message to a close associate today that "I am through testifying. I've told my story many times, and it remains the same." The Angelus temple leader, who is in Europe, referred indignantly to the present investigation of the Los Angeles county grand jury into the dismissal of her kidnapping case. Mrs. McPherson, it was indicated by followers who have heard from her, is "up in arms" over the reopening of the case and has instructed them she will not appear to testify before the grand jury unless absolutely ordered to do so.

"Every time there is a political flare up," the evangelist's message said, "or any investigation of an investigation in Los Angeles, they drag my case into it. I can't see why they want to keep investigating a case that is long closed. I have told them what I can tell them, and all I am ever going to tell them."

SECOND JAIL BREAK IN A WEEK NETS ESCAPE OF SEVEN

Charleston, W. Va., November 12.—(AP)—Seven prisoners escaped from the Kanawha county jail today in the second jail delivery at that prison. Eight prisoners broke out on election night but six of them were recaptured. Two of those who escaped today had figured in the escape last week.

The seven men who fled the jail today were in "mudmen" row, although none of the group was charged with murder. William Stewart, held on a murder charge, occupied a cell in the same tier but he refused to flee.

The prisoners escaped after binding the night jailer, Les Hager. The jailer said that he had been aroused by cries from the jail and found a prisoner lying on the floor of his cell, bleeding from a wound on his head. He opened cell doors to permit the prisoners to aid the injured man and then joined them in the cell. He was seized, bound and gagged and then his assailants fled after taking $10 from his pockets. Hager said he believed the injured prisoner had plotted with the breakers in the break, but he was not one of those who escaped.

HOOVER'S TRIP SOUTH INTERESTS EUROPE

Only One Paper Comments and That Article Is Favorable.

London, November 12.—(AP)—The coming South American trip of Herbert Hoover has attracted attention here, but only limited comment.

Newspapers generally have printed news articles concerning the projected journey but with the exception of the Sunday Observer, they have refrained from editorial comment.

The Observer published a leading article on the president-elect and in it said that already he had realized the cardinal truth that unless America be conscious of her qualities and proud of their manifestations, she could not fully occupy post of leadership which she has attained. The article continued:

"Elected because he is the embodiment of the national spirit, Mr. Hoover's first act is to plan a visit to the states of Central and South America. This tour is his first deed of national service."

"Incidentally it refutes the charge that Mr. Hoover upholds an exclusive and ignoble materialism. It is as the standard bearer of national ideals that he will survey the nearer environment of American foreign activities."

HOOVER SAILS MONDAY FOR PANAMA CANAL

Itinerary of Trip to South America Has Not Been Decided.

BY W. B. RAGSDALE.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Stanford University, Calif., November 12.—Herbert Hoover prepared today to leave his home in Palo Alto on Sunday to board ship at San Pedro, Monday, for his good will trip to South America.

The first part of call of the battleship Maryland, which will bear the president-elect and his party on their southward journey, will be Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, where Mr. Hoover will make the first task of his journey the inspection of the Panama canal. Beyond the brief stop that will be made there, the itinerary of the president-elect has not been announced, but he desires to visit all the republics on the western coast of South America.

A definite decision regarding the acceptance of an invitation to visit Bolivia has not yet been reached.

Fletcher to Make Trip.

The news was received today that Henry P. Fletcher, ambassador to Rome, would represent the state department on the trip, and his choice was regarded as particularly desirable because of his wide acquaintance with the public men of South American countries, gained through his service as ambassador to Chile and Mexico, and as a member of the American delegation to various Pan-American conferences.

Mr. Fletcher is expected to join the Hoover party before it leaves Palo Alto for the journey by special train to San Pedro. Besides the ambassador, other members of the personal party of the president-elect, who definitely have been informed that they would make the trip, are his son, Allan, and his personal secretary, George Akerson. Mrs. Hoover probably will not go, although no announcement has been made as to her plans.

Ship Now in Dry Dock.

The battleship Maryland, one of the newest and largest of American war craft, will be boarded at the Los Angeles port around noon of November 19. The ship now is in dry dock at Hunter's Point on San Francisco bay, for the necessary reconditioning for the voyage.

The vessel will leave San Francisco Saturday, moving down the California coast to San Pedro to be refueled for the passage to Valparaiso, Chile.

where Hoover's party will disembark for the land journey across the southern continent to Santiago.

This journey over the Transandinian railroad will take the president-elect into altitudes above 10,000 feet as he passes over the Andes along the border between Chile and Argentina. The highest tunnel piercing the peaks of the mountains, near the point at which is located the Christ of the Andes, the famous statue dedicated to peace between Chile and Argentina.

Many applications have been received from Spanish linguists who are anxious to serve as interpreters on the journey. Although Mr. Hoover does not speak Spanish, Ambassador Fletcher is an adept in the language.

Will Prepare Speeches.

During the first lap of his more than 40 days journey, Mr. Hoover would have ample time aboard ship to prepare the speeches which he will deliver in the various capitals of the western Latin-American republics and also to attend to a vast volume of work connected with domestic affairs, which must be transacted before he concludes his good-will mission upon his arrival in Florida in January.

- 2 Hydraulic 4-wheel internal brakes—for safety to public, driver, owner, merchandise.
- 3 Low unsprung weight for greater tire mileage, easier riding and protection to load.

LEARN how these features can be profitably applied to your present hauling or delivery problems. A Speed Wagon representative will be glad to give you facts—and prove them, too, in a demonstration.

These three factors safeguard profits by holding down expense. Speed Wagons are designed to meet these three vital requirements.

Ample Power For Weight. Reo engineers have done more than provide powerful motors. Dead, useless weight is scientifically eliminated—so pay loads can be increased. Weight is matched with horse-power. The result is an utterly new kind of performance.

For swift acceleration in traffic, in hill-climbing and above all in ability to move smoothly away under their loads without wearing strain. Thus Reo Speed Wagons last longer—make fewer visits to the repair shop.

Speed Wagons perform like pleasure cars. So they hold to faster schedules, enlarge delivery or hauling radius and increase business.

Hydraulic Brakes. Keen competition requires fast service—with safety. Speed Wagons offer the needed swiftness. In addition they offer the full protection of quick acting 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes—for driver, public and merchandise. Light pressure on the brake pedal brings you smoothly to an instant stop.

Easy Riding For Load and Driver. The amount of weight below the springs is called "unsprung" weight. It largely controls riding ease—freedom from road shocks that wear out driver and damage loads.

Speed Wagons are low-hung. Springs are long and wide. So drivers find unjolted comfort.

Repair bills are reduced. Longer life is assured. Tire mileage is increased and damage to merchandise is minimized.

Whatever your problems in delivering and hauling, there is a wheel-base size and tonnage capacity in the Speed Wagon line that will meet 93% of trucking requirements—13 wheel-base sizes and 5 tonnage capacities from 1½ to 3 tons. Prices $895.00 to $2150.00.

Accept This Offer. A Speed Wagon delivery and hauling expert will gladly call and discuss your problems. He will show you facts and figures on costs and service.

He will demonstrate how Reo Speed Wagons measure up to these three vital features. He will let you put a Speed Wagon to your own tests. Start it! Step on it! Park it! Stop it! Telephone the Reo dealer today.

BAPTIST 'HONOR DAY' PROVES BIG SUCCESS

General and Generous Response Made to Appeal, Dr. Cree States.

Although the total of the fund raised Sunday by "Baptist Honor Day" contributions will not be available for some time, reports to the Baptist Home Mission board indicate that the appeal for funds with which to replace the money alleged to have been misappropriated by Clinton S. Carnes, former treasurer, met with a general and generous response, according to Dr. Arch C. Cree, acting executive secretary.

Dr. Cree explained that the contributions from the various churches in each state, and then forwarded to the board headquarters here, with the result that a number of days must elapse before the full amount becomes known.

Reports of numbers of large contributions were received Monday, however, and indicate that a large sum, if not the full amount, was subscribed, Dr. Cree said. The First Baptist church, of Shreveport, La., reported $4,000, the First church of Minden, La., reported $3,000, the Ponce de Leon Baptist church reported $7,500, the Capitol Avenue Baptist church $1,500, and many other churches over the south likewise reported large contributions.

Each member of the Baptist church was asked to contribute $1. Numbers of people outside of the denomination have contributed to the board, and it has been reported to him that three prominent Methodist laymen have donated $1,000 each, Dr. Cree said.

Carnes is held in Fulton tower under a number of indictments charging embezzlement of the home mission board's assets. His total shortage has been reported at $835,000, but the audit of the board's finances has not been completed.

FERTILIZER MEN OPEN MEETING HERE TODAY

E. L. Robbins, National President, To Be in Chair at Biltmore Today.

The first general session of the fourth annual southern convention of the National Fertilizer association, which opened Monday with a meeting of the soil improvement committee and the board of directors, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, with E. L. Robbins, president of the association, presiding.

"Industry Improvement Through Constructive Change" will be the theme of this meeting, which will be opened by an invocation by the Rev. N. R. High Moor, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church. Following this will be an opening address by E. L. Robbins, of Meridian, Miss., on "Code Observation and Better Business."

"Trade Practice Conference Procedure" will be the subject of an address by Mr. Markham Flannery, chief of trade practice conferences, federal trade commission, following which Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture of Louisiana, will speak on "The Commissioner of Agriculture and the Fertilizer Industry."

The afternoon session which starts at 2:30 o'clock will be devoted to "Promoting industry welfare through advertising," and John J. Watson, president of the International Agricultural corporation, will preside. J. C. Pridmore, director of the southern division of the soil improvement committee, in an address on "European Agriculture and Fertilizer Practice," will present the observations which he and H. R. Smalley made on their European trip during the past summer. Mr. Smalley is a director of the northern division of the soil improvement committee.

Three other addresses by Major I. D. Carson, of N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia; L. W. Rowell, of Swift and company, Chicago, and Harry C. Butcher, managing editor of the Fertilizer Review, will conclude the scheduled speeches and following these there will be an open forum discussion.

The board of directors of the association met at the Biltmore Monday night and disposed of a number of routine matters in connection with the business of the association and the forthcoming convention.

BOOK CONTEST IS WON BY HOME PARK CLASS

Carnegie Library Competition in Grammar Grades Produces Fine Work.

The Home Park school won first prize in the high-6 grade class of the Carnegie library contest for artistic book exhibits, according to announcement Monday by officials of the contest. A tiny couch made from leather and cardboard and inspired by "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm" won the award.

Honorable mention in this class was given to the Samuel M. Inman school. The contest included posters, book covers, friezes, booklets and other artistic exhibits pertaining to reading, and resulted in a notable display of talent on the part of Atlanta school children, officers of the Carnegie library stated.

The prize for the low-6 grades was won by the Peoples Street school for a poster, "The Annexation of Cuba," from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Honorable mention went to the poster, "Lives of the Hunted," exhibited by State Street school.

The first prize for high-5 was awarded a scene from "The Swiss Family Robinson," exhibited by the Samuel Inman school, while honorable mention in this grade went to the poster, "Robinson Crusoe," of the Tenth Street school.

The J. C. Harrison school won first prize in low-5 on an Uncle Remus booklet. Honorable mention went to the ship, "Santa Maria," of Goldsmith school.

Whiteford Avenue school, with a circus wagon, "Toby Tyler," made entirely from Georgia clay and painted wood, won first prize among the high-4 grades. Honorable mention for this class went to Home Park school, for a moving picture, "The Gorgon's Head."

Low-4 grade of Lee Street school won first prize of its group with a poster, "Aesop's Fables." "Aesop's Fables," a frieze, won honorable mention for the Highland school.

RAIL CONDUCTOR ON TRIAL AGAIN IN NARCOTIC CASE

James T. Reese, Atlanta railroad conductor, went on trial in United States district court here Monday morning for the second time in recent weeks, charged with violation of the Harrison Narcotic act, following the break-up of what narcotic agents believe to be a dope smuggling gang. A deadlocked jury caused a mistrial verdict when the case first was brought up.

Prior to that trial, W. F. Lanford, H. R. MacKeady and Charles Chomsky had pleaded guilty to having a part in the alleged smuggling ring, and Chomsky is at present serving a three-year sentence in the federal pen. The other two were not sentenced at the time and are being used as witnesses.

Reese's arrest came after he had walked into a well-laid trap arranged by local narcotic agents, one man posing as a druggist who made the purchase and the others acting as witnesses. Reese maintained at his former trial that he had been made an innocent dupe and did not know what he was selling.

Theft of 20 Chickens To Cost Man His Liberty For Two and a Half Years

The price of 20 chickens is two and a half years, according to the new market value set Monday by Judge Jesse Wood in city criminal court.

Alabama Public Service Commission Shows How Public Is Affected By Passenger Service

From time to time the Central of Georgia Railway has pointed out that the continuation of unprofitable passenger trains is adverse to the public interest, and that railway earning power should be safe-guarded for the public welfare.

Just how this comes about is made plain in a decision of the Alabama Public Service Commission dated October 3, 1928, on a petition of the Central of Georgia to replace certain local trains with less expensive motor bus service to be operated on the highways.

The decision says in part:

"The evidence in this case is substantially like that which has been offered before the Commission in a considerable number of similar cases within the past few years. It shows that, with the improvement of the public roads and the rapidly increasing use of automobiles for transportation of the people for relatively short distances, particularly private automobiles, the people use the local passenger trains of the railroads less and less. The public cannot reasonably expect the railroads to continue the operation of such local passenger trains when such service is not used and when the use thereof drops down to a point which causes the carrier to sustain substantial losses. If the people insist on such trains being continued, notwithstanding such substantial losses, then it can mean only one thing, namely: rates for transportation of persons and freight, where the service of the railroad is used, must be made high enough to overcome such losses, and provide the carrier with a return that is sufficient to enable it to continue to give good service and make necessary additions and betterments.

To enable the carrier to make necessary additions and betterments, its credit must be good enough to enable it to obtain the necessary money at reasonably low cost. The carrier cannot maintain such credit unless it is able to earn upon its whole operations a return sufficient to constitute basis for such credit."

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

WARREN TO INSPECT
GRADY HIGH TODAY

School Commissioner Will Determine If Crack in Wall Is Source of Danger.

Boy D. Warren, school commissioner from the tenth ward and chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the Atlanta board of education, will inspect the fissure in the outer wall of the Henry Grady high school this morning to ascertain whether immediate action is necessary to prevent actual danger to students in the event the wall crumbles.

Mr. Warren's statement was made Monday night, on the eve of the regular November meeting of the board, slated for 3 o'clock this afternoon in the city council chamber.

Many defects have been discovered in the building since its erection about four years ago at a cost of approximately $400,000. Floors have sunk due to improper drainage, engineers say; walls have settled, thus causing them to crack; lavatories are in bad condition due to faulty setting of fixtures, it is said, and the building is in general need of renovation.

Several weeks ago, Mr. Warren called on the board to provide funds for repairing the structure, but they could not be procured. He had not been noticed Monday night that Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, had ordered a wall constructed around the latest outside break and had placed a sign "Dangerous" to warn the students.

"I shall make an inspection of the building Tuesday morning and will take the necessary steps to place the matter officially before the board at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, if I find the situation dangerous to students," Mr. Warren said. "I estimate that it will cost $40,000 to place the building in complete repair and to repaint it."

At the time the other defects were called to the attention of the board, C. J. Bonser, city building inspector, surveyed the situation and declared there was no immediate danger. He will be asked to make another inspection, if possible, with Mr. Warren this morning.

Other routine matters will be considered by the board at its meeting this afternoon, George W. Powell, president, announced.

TAMPERING WITH JURY
REPORTED IN OIL CASE

Washington, November 12.—(AP)—With an investigation being made into statements made by a prospective juror that he had been approached about the perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, Justice Jennings Bailey today ordered the jury selected to hear the case to be locked up for its duration.

This action came at the close of the opening session, at Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel, was winding up his opening statement to the jury. The nine men and three women had earlier heard the government's case sketched by Leo A. Rover, district attorney.

"Juror Tells of Approach," Robert N. Caldwell, the second of 26 talesmen examined by the court, interrupted the proceedings temporarily with a statement that a young man visited him at home yesterday and inquired whether he would "hold out" in the case. He said this visitor had given his name as "McGinnis" and asked "if I knew Hogan."

Prosecution and defense counsel conferred at the bench, after which Caldwell described the visitor as about 21 years old, light complexioned and wearing a gray suit. Rover said the description tallied with a man he had in mind, but during luncheon recess Caldwell faced the man and failed to identify him. Caldwell, an elderly butter dealer, asserted outside the court that the visitor had wanted to know whether he was a Catholic. His version of the visit was received in detail by court officers, who said it would be investigated thoroughly. Caldwell was excused from service in the case through a peremptory challenge by the defense.

Jury Is Selected. Justice Bailey conducted the examination of prospective jurors, declaring over objection to allow defense counsel that opportunity. As finally selected the jury included Albert K. Baker, street car conductor; Carl W. L. Horn, salesman; William E. Egan, salesman; Mrs. Eva Buckley, widow; Mrs. Sadie G. Jenkins, clerk; Morvan C. Emmons, salesman; Walter N. Hogan, insurance solicitor; Laurence L. Kiefer, secretary; Hugh R. O'Donnell, unemployed; Mrs. June P. Chaffee, housewife; Fred P. Haas, clerk; and Charles E. Henderson, department store floor manager.

All of them denied acquaintance with any figures involved in the oil scandals or counsel in trials growing out of these or with witnesses in the present case. Rover announced that the government witnesses would include Senator Nye, of North Dakota, chairman of the senate public lands committee before which Stewart

Ruler of Tiniest
Monarchy Marks

70 Years of Reign

Vienna, November 12.—(AP)—Prince John of Liechtenstein today at his palace here received the felicitations of the kings and queens of the world on the completion of the seventieth year of his reign over his tiny principality of 11,000 souls. Serious impairment of his sight brought him here for treatment and prevented him from being with his "household" as he prefers to call his subjects.

In the little realm of Liechtenstein, which straggles like a child between the parent states of Austria and Switzerland, there was all the rejoicing of a national celebration today. Here the 88-year-old ruler received tokens of affection from deputations of his loyal subjects and from his many children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and other relatives.

The rule of Prince John has exceeded even the remarkable record of 68 years set by the Emperor Franz Joseph, although it so far is two years short of the phenomenal 72 years reign of Louis XIV of France. The admirers of the prince who fill the palace to overflowing could not help noticing today that cataracts which recently have appeared in both of his eyes made it almost impossible for him to see those around him. On the advice of Viennese eye specialists, he probably will submit to an operation.

In addition to his already magnificent gifts of oil paintings and objects of art to the Austrian nation, whose emperor he is, Prince John has given the city of Vienna with a statue of Dr. Abraham Santa-Clara, the most eloquent preacher of Austria, who is sometimes called a second Savonarola.

Liechtenstein is 250 years older than the United States and is the only country populated by German stock which now has a monarch. His subjects call Prince John "The Good," for he has long maintained intimate contact with their lives and has spent a large part of his personal fortune in their welfare.

ANOTHER OIL CONTRACT
HELD VOID BY SARGENT

Washington, November 12.—(AP)—Secretary West today advised the Lewistown Oil and Refining company of Detroit that the government contract it holds for the purchase of royalty oil from the Cat Creek field in Montana had been held invalid by Attorney General Sargent and that delivery of oil would be stopped at 7 a. m. Monday, November 19.

In a decision similar to that in which he recently held invalid a contract held by the Harry F. Sinclair interests from royalty oil in the Salt Creek fields, Attorney General Sargent declared the Cat Creek agreement was illegal because it contained a clause giving the Lewistown Oil and Refining company an option of renewal not provided for in the advertisement for bids. Secretary West had asked for the opinion after Mr. Sargent had rendered his decision in the Salt Creek case.

The contract was negotiated by former Secretary Albert B. Fall in December, 1922, for a period of five years. It was renewed for an additional five years under the option clause by former Secretary Hubert Work early in 1928.

Secretary West said that the various lessees in the field were notified by wire today that the government would collect its royalties from the Cat Creek field in cash pending negotiations of a new contract. Steps are to be taken in the immediate future, he added, to advertise the royalty oil for sale.

art is charged with having sworn falsely about the Liberty bond transactions of the Continental Trading company; Senator Walsh, of Montana, a committee member; Ingham Mack, committee clerk; Herbert Door, Oliver T. Stewart and Walter Peeler, senate stenographer reporters; Roy J. Barnett, a business associate of the defendant, and Frank E. Cunningham, court clerk.

Three Counts of Perjury. The three counts of the perjury indictment were explained to the jury by Rover, who said the prosecution expected to prove that Stewart had perjured himself when denying knowledge of the Continental Trading company or of any bonds held by it.

Hogan contended that although Stewart had received $750,000 of the Liberty bonds from the Continental Trading from a profitable oil transaction, he had not profited personally but had turned the bonds over to a trustee to be transferred eventually to two oil companies with which he was connected and which figured in the deal.

GRADY BOND WORKERS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Plans for Intensive Campaign Will Be Made By Council Body

Plans for the most intensive campaign in behalf of a bond issue ever conducted in the history of Atlanta will be laid at a meeting Wednesday night, it was announced Monday by Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward and chairman of a steering committee named Saturday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale to push the proposed $1,000,000 issue for Grady hospital.

Mr. York stated the time and place would be announced today, and in the meantime details will be worked out in order that the drive may be one of the most successful ever waged in Atlanta.

Allocation of Fund. Members of the steering committee will frame a tentative allocation of the entire $1,000,000 between now and the time for the meeting. All interests will attend the committee session at which the drive will be formally launched, according to Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward and chairman of the hospitals and charities committees of city council.

Every civic organization in Atlanta, political, social and patriotic organizations, labor, business leaders and all citizens will be asked to cooperate in the drive to get the necessary $1,000,000 persons to push the drive, when the issue will be balloted upon. Of the 11,000 who must cast ballots, about 7,000 must vote favorably, unopposed by the city charter, to validate the issue.

Plans for a city-wide campaign in behalf of the greatest charity ever offered to the people of Atlanta by the Atlanta city government, will be evolved at the session at which the campaign will be initiated.

Improvements Included. Included among the improvements contemplated from the money to be derived from the issue will be erection of a pay ward costing $300,000; a psychopathic ward for about $30,000, $75,000 for additions to the Albert Steiner cancer clinic, enlargement and improvement of the contagious disease, the white and negro units.

Estimates of contemplated allocations.

tions for the two latter projects have not yet been compiled, but the committee is expected to be ready to make a report within the next few days.

Administration of the whole fund will be made under the supervision of a bond commission composed of 12 members, one from each ward. Mayor I. N. Ragsdale has named the commission by authority vested in him by city council.

When the improvements are completed, facilities for adequate hospitalization of the poor unfortunates of Atlanta will have been provided, according to members of the committee.

Humanitarian Move. "It is the most humanitarian move ever initiated by the Atlanta city council," Raleigh Drennon, councilman from the ninth ward and a member of the hospitals and charities committee, declared. "Citizens must rally to the support of council, however, or it will be impossible to get the necessary majority of registered voters to the polls. If we fail to do that, the entire issue will fail. It would be nothing short of criminal neglect for voters not to visit the polls. That will be the only way to save the issue will be in, in my opinion."

"I have no fear of the required two-thirds favorable vote of those casting ballots, but I do fear that hundreds of well-meaning citizens may find themselves 'too busy' to give the required half hour to charity on that day and vote jeoparding the issue will be in, in my opinion."

"My appeal is to voters to visit the ballot boxes. Grady and the sick and poor of Atlanta need the additional facilities the bonds would provide. It will be an actual saving and an economy to provide adequate hospital facilities."

GREAT WHITE WAY IS MADE BRIGHTER BY RECORD SIGN

New York, November 12.—The Great White Way now has 20,880 electric signs from The Battery to 135th street, burning 1,309,918 lamps. The latest and largest is half a city block long, and five stories high, flashing its message through 8,115 lamps fed by about 20 miles of wire.

MODERN MARRIAGE TROUBLE IDLENESS, DECLARES ACTRESS

New York, November 12.—Having found that the trouble with modern marriage is idleness, Ann Orr, former star of musical comedy, is returning to the footlights. She retired in 1919 when she married Archibald McNeil, Jr. It is her opinion that both husband and wife should be occupied.

SLAYER GIVEN SOLITARY LIFE PRISON TERM

Detroit, November 12.—(AP)—Jack Blair, 45, confessed slayer of Mrs. Jane Lantz, 51, wealthy Detroit widow, was sentenced today to life imprisonment in solitary confinement when he pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree murder.

Blair, a furnace repair man, who said he came here seven months ago from Pittsburgh, confessed soon after his arrest Saturday that he beat Mrs. Lantz to death with a furnace shaker in the basement of her home last Tuesday and then robbed her of two diamond earrings she was wearing.

A few weeks ago Blair had aided in installing a furnace in the home of Mrs. Lantz.

Guilty of Violating Blue Sky Laws, Gets Jail Sentence

Detroit, November 12.—(AP)—Cecil L. Snyder, 36, president of the Automobile Abstract and Title company, who was convicted last week of violating the Michigan blue sky laws, was sentenced today by Recorder Judge W. McKay Skillman to serve six months to one year in the Detroit house of correction. The maximum sentence was recommended.

Snyder was accused of disposing of more than $500,000 worth of stock in his firm on the representation that stockholders would benefit from suits he intended to file against several states charging infringements on patented rights on an abstract system used to record ownership of automobiles.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble, and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Build now with safety

Do they look and walk away?

If YOU did not own your home . . . and were looking around for a place to rent or buy, would you actually be attracted by your own house?

Look at your property with the eyes of your neighbors. Picture your house with one of these beautiful new roofs, the kind that adds many times its cost to the value of the house. Does the porch floor sag? Are the shutters actually disreputable?

Why shouldn't you have an arch in the living room instead of that warped, old-fashioned narrow door? The cost would be small. Let's put in polished, hard-wood floors instead of the painted boards . . . everyone else has them. If you knew how easy it is to have a dormer window in that dark upstairs closet to make it into a light, airy bath room, you would have already put it in. You can increase the actual size of your house by walling your bare draughty attic. There are so many little things you can do to a house to make it a modern home. Possibly you have not considered your lumber dealer as the department store of those delightful things that turn houses into homes.

Remodeling costs much less than you think. Any one of the "Build Now with Safety" dealers in your city will gladly advise with you and give you estimates of the cost of material.

'SPEED TRAP' SYSTEM MAY COME UP TONIGHT

College Park Council Likely to Consider Complaints at Meeting.

Probability that the College Park city council will consider complaints made against an alleged "speed trap" said to have been established there by employment of policemen whose salaries were to be paid by the traffic cases they booked, loomed Monday night on the eve of the meeting of that body.

C. C. Bowling, a former member of council, scored the system in an exclusive statement released Saturday to The Constitution, and added that he fought it when it was offered to council while he sat in that body.

Prospect of a councilmanic battle over the system was seen following complaint of W. B. Davis, of New York, that he was ordered to a side road as he proceeded through the city during the early part of October, and forced to post a bond of $10.75 or appear in court to fight what he termed an unjust arrest.

He charged that the drive of the police officers was directed against out-of-state cars, and that another motorist suffered the same treatment he did while he was posting the cash bond.

R. W. Moore, chief of College Park police, has denied the existence of a speed trap, and declared his men are instructed not to stop motorists proceeding through the town at a speed under 30 miles an hour.

R. F. Crawford is one of the policemen who "Mr. Bowling" stated, was added to the force by action of the council while he was a member and whose salary, it was understood at the time, would be paid from fines he extracted from automobile drivers in enforcement of traffic laws.

PLANNING BOARD WILL PASS TODAY ON STREET NAMES

Two important matters will be considered this afternoon at public hearing scheduled to take place in the office of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale.

A proposal to change the name of Whitehall street to Peachtree and Decatur street to Marietta will be up before the city planning commission at 3 o'clock. The measure is favored by Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward.

Strenuous opposition to the proposal has developed due to location of many mercantile houses along the thoroughfares, and predictions Monday night were that neither of the papers would get a favorable recommendation of the commission.

New regulations governing operation of taxicabs in the city will be discussed at a meeting of the ordinance committee at 2 o'clock.

The sewer committee will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting at 2:30 o'clock, and the Atlanta board of education will convene at 3 o'clock in the city council chamber.

FIVE VESSELS SEARCH IN VAIN FOR LIFEBOATS

boats until day had dispelled the fog covering the scene of disaster.

At 10 p. m. the steamship Collar, the fifth vessel, had arrived at the point where the Vestris last was reported.

Its first message, radioed to the United States coast guard cutter Davis, and relayed here, said:

"Speed 12 knots. Vessels to port and starboard. No sign."

The terse message permitted a snapshot-like picture of the scene, in the rain and wind and angry seas, as side by side, their searchlights darting to and fro, criss-crossing the waves, the rescue ships steamed slowly through the area.

Dozen Ships Race to Save.

The 10,000-ton Lamport and Holt liner founded 300 miles off the Virginia coast and there was enacted another of those dramas of the sea which make glorious the annals of the seafaring.

Captain W. J. Carey stood by his ship to the last. The radio operator sat at his key until he was ordered away to take his place with the ship's master in the last boat to leave. The passengers were taken off first.

Then, while these 237 people, cast adrift some 300 miles from land, were tossed in a dozen tiny life boats under a wind which reached gale force at times, a dozen ships ranging from the navy's great battleship Wyoming down to the grim, sea-greyhound which are destroyers—prowled through a smoking sea, to give help.

Merchantmen turned from their courses. The navy ordered out its ships. On the sea lanes within 300 miles of the spot where the Vestris was in trouble, there was no thought of anything but that one purpose:

to save human life which was in danger.

First Call at 10 A. M.

It was just a few minutes after 10 a. m. today when radio stations up and down the Atlantic coast heard the signal "S. O. S." A hundred operators listened and heard the Vestris' sign.

"We need help at once; very urgent," came the message. The Vestris had been holed by a mine yesterday. The ship was disabled beyond hope of proceeding. Slowly it had listed to starboard until it was at an angle of 31 degrees. There was water in the hold and the cargo was being shifted.

When seas came pounding over it, it rolled on its beams' ends. Passengers in the cabin had been dead in the cabins, their life preservers on.

The message did not explain the cause of the trouble. It was assumed that in the gale which had blown in the last 24 hours the wind had reached a velocity as high as 80 miles an hour at sea off the Virginia coast.

The ship or its steering gear had been disabled, leaving it helpless while the waves pounded relentlessly at it, until it became waterlogged.

But causes have little to do with the business of rescue.

Cutters Steam to Site.

Land wires up and down the coast were carrying messages back and forth among the coast guard stations, and officials at Washington, agents of the Vestris and agents of other ships which might be in the vicinity.

The Vestris, which was built in Liverpool in 1912, left New York at 3 p. m. Saturday with passengers and freight for Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires. In exact figures it is a ship of 10,794 gross tons. It flew the British flag, with Liverpool as the home port. It was designed originally for the South American trade.

Officials of the Lamport and Holt offices here, operating owners of the ship, said that when it left port the Vestris was in excellent shape. Other shipping men agreed with them. It had a reputation as a particularly staunch and seaworthy craft.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 50c for a bottle of Aspirinal, and tell him to serve you two teaspoonful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

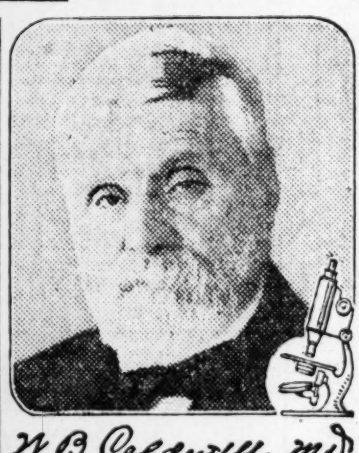

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even then early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation, which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as

Do You Know What Pain in Right Side Is?

When you have a feeling of uneasiness, pain, a sense of fullness just under the lower ribs on the right side, it indicates often that the liver is sluggish, the bile ducts clogged. Such a condition will cause headache, dizziness, nausea, biliousness, constipation, and should be corrected at once or gall stones may result.

You can safely take Bi-a-lin, a new prescription of a noted doctor, which acts marvelously quick on a lazy liver—stimulating the bile ducts, releasing a free flow of bile, cleansing the liver and gall bladder of thick, sour bile, purifying the intestinal tract and ending constipation.

Begin Bi-a-lin TODAY. You'll soon feel better than ever! No harmful drugs or narcotics. Guaranteed. Money back if not satisfied. All druggists.

Are You Run Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mrs. J. W. Tate, 1502 Maple St., Rome, Ga., says: "For 10 years I suffered unbelievable misery from indigestion, toxic depression and chronic headache. I owe my better health entirely to Tanlac. Now I eat everything and go all day without getting tired."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation, pain, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. FORTY LOSE LIVES ON SOVIET STEAMER

Bucharest, Rumania, November 12.—(United News.)—Meager reports received here today said that 40 persons were lost when the Soviet steamer Kermak sank 30 miles off the coast of Asia Minor. Part of the crew was believed to have been cast adrift in small boats, but there were no complete advices of the wreck available.

CHINESE PIRATES SURROUND VESSEL

Shanghai, November 12.—(United News.)—Gunboats were en route tonight to assist the crew and passengers of the British steamer Hsin Chi, which reported by wireless that it had been surrounded by pirates after grounding off Tae island, near Foochow. The Hsin Chi, which carried a few foreigners and about 900 Chinese, was surrounded by a score of small pirate craft, and the passengers, some of whom had been landed, were in danger, wireless messages said.

FREIGHTER ORTEGA GOES AGROUND

Key West, Fla., November 12.—(United News.)—The freighter Ortega, chartered by the Atlantic Gulf West Indies Steamship company, was reported aground off Haiti tonight. The wrecking tug Warbler, of the Merritt Chapman line, sailed to her assistance at 6 p. m. The grounded craft was reported in no immediate danger.

UNIDENTIFIED VESSEL GROUND ON CAPE

Norfolk, Va., November 12.—(United News.)—A radio message from the False Cape life saving station off Cape Henry, told coast guard headquarters here tonight reported an unidentified steamer ashore about three miles south of the Middle Island station.

"Leaving with boat and beach cart. Service of cutter requested," the message, which was from the chief of the Middle Island station, stated.

MAURETANIA PASSENGERS INJURED IN CROSSING

London, November 12.—(United News.)—The Daily Mail tonight received a telegram from the liner Mauretania saying that some of her passengers had been slightly injured during gales which the ship had battled for three days. The wind was reported to have attained a velocity of 80 miles an hour with exceptionally high seas.

The captain said that it was one of the worst gales he had encountered in recent years.

Health is in danger when gums break down

Too many men and women ignore the fact that sooner or later they may pay the price of neglect. They brush their teeth faithfully and feel secure. Yet, health, youth and beauty slip away. And here's the reason:

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised as they are must be brushed daily, morning and night, if they are to resist such dread diseases as Pyorrhea, Gingivitis, Trench Mouth.

As a measure of protection, brush your gums vigorously with the dentifrice designed to keep them firm, sound and healthy... Forhan's for the Gums.

When you have used Forhan's for a few days, you'll notice a distinct improvement in the way your gums look and feel. In addition, the way this dentifrice cleans teeth white and protects them from acids which cause decay will delight you. Start using Forhan's today. And see your dentist every six months.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.

While lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Donaldson broods over the fact that his father, with whom he quarreled just before he died, has never come into his room to visit him. He decides that he must make the most of his mother and the servants are keeping it from him. His aunt, Lady Eleanor Wins, a great gossip, comes to call and tells Hugo that his friend, Paul Mostyn, is in prison for stealing and that he has married some girl of whom his family disapproved and that Hugo Mostyn had expected to marry Paul and is heartbroken over the affair. Hugo is distressed by the story and asks his mother to have Hugo Mostyn come to see him. Bunny appears and tells Hugo that she was never engaged to Paul.

INSTALLMENT VIII.

THE COURTROOM SCENE.
Bunny came for Hugo's cup and poured him out some more tea to show she was perfectly calm about the whole thing. "I had arrived here and heard you were fighting everybody. It consoled me rather, because that was just what I wanted to do myself—only I was conscious," said Bunny. "When I found I couldn't get any help from you, I was properly stumped, so I decided to go and have my eyebrows plucked."

"Whatever for?" asked Hugo in bewilderment.

"To improve my face of course. It's uplifting to the mind," Bunny waggled the eyebrows in question. "Like 'em?" she inquired.

"Thin and tidy like that? Yes, jolly fine. You have a nice color, too," said Hugo considering her.

"Pretty good rouge, that," agreed Bunny.

"Not really? Of course I knew your mouth was," observed the invalid in quick excuse for such unseemly innocence.

"Well, you silly donkey, any one would. Don't you like it?"

"I don't mind it," said Hugo, "but I've often wondered about girls. Doesn't it come off?—I mean—well, if you—kiss any one, for instance?"

Bunny laughed aloud.

"Do you dare to look me in the eye and tell me you never had a shot to find out?" she demanded.

"Not on your life. I hadn't the pluck," grinned Hugo. "Nice I'd look all over red smudges like a comic picture."

"You're not the kissing sort, are you?" said Bunny casually. "Neither am I, so I've never bothered to consider it."

"But suppose you wanted to, sometime?"

"O, well, I'd probably leave it off, then. How do I know," said Bunny, and as though grateful to Hugo, who had not only failed to console with her but was even suggesting probable love affairs ahead, she returned to the question of Paul.

"When I'd finished with my eyebrows I went and bought a new suit," she said. "And next morning when the case came up for hearing I wore it in court."

"No?" cried Hugo.

"Rather! Looking bright and jolly. I had to, you know, when Molly was going about telling every one I was jilted and blighted and all the rest of it. I wonder the newspapers didn't get hold of it. . . . Inset, Miss Gungny Molynoux, jilted by the Defendant."

Besides, no one would tell me the truth, and I had to find it out for myself, and I thought Paul would like to see me there and know I hadn't gone back on him. I hope he saw me, but I can't be sure because I didn't think of saying I was a friend of the bridegroom and wanted a front pew. It was just as well as it turned out, because I forgot where I was and applauded once, and there was very nearly a riot. Shouts of 'Silence in court.' Thrilling. I can tell you."

"Why, whatever had they said?"

"It was the girl," explained Bunny. "Directly she came on, I knew they were all wrong and idiots into the bargain. A wife can't give evidence against her husband, I believe, but Paul's side put her into the witness box and having heard Molly's tale, I knew at once what they were up to. You—"

Bunny broke off suddenly and stroked the hounds nose, and when she went on again she had rearranged her sentence.

"The Mostyns had evidently worked out their idea and impressed it on Paul's counsel that he was an innocent babe, led astray by a designing woman, and you could tell they were trying to make the court see it in that light, too. But Molly had never set eyes on the girl and wasn't in court. Catch her. And Mr. Mostyn is short-sighted, and I suppose lawyers are suspicious of everybody by nature. I could have told them she was no vampire," declared Bunny. "Quiet sort of girl, she was, decently dressed and cleverish, I should say. Plucky, too, with an attractive voice. I quite liked her, Hugo."

Bunny's tone was all at once confidential and believing her. This wasn't just bravado. She had been glad to be able to like Paul's girl, he knew, but she wouldn't have told every one.

"They asked her all sort of questions," proceeded Bunny. "Was it true she had married Paul, knowing it was against his parents' wishes? Yes, it was. And was she aware that he was practically engaged to somebody else at the time? She just looked at them in the eye and said: 'No I didn't know that and I don't believe it.' Loud applause from me, and 'Silence in the court' from the starter, or whatever they call him."

"Good old Bunny," shouted Hugo, delighted. "O, lord, I wish I'd been there."

"So do I. However, that's how it went on, but they couldn't prove anything against her, and they couldn't prove anything against the three men, though I simply hated them on sight."

"Good old Bunny," shouted Hugo, delighted. "O, lord, I wish I'd been there."

Cultural and Social Affairs Vie For Space on Tuesday's Calendar

Club and cultural organizations of the city hold sway on the calendar of events of the day with an unusual number of meetings and social affairs. The Young Ladies' Cotillion club meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Biltmore hotel to decide on the new list of members for the forthcoming year, and plans are to be discussed for the Christmas ball which is an affair of unusual brilliance and social interest every year. The Atlanta Pan-Hellenic council entertains this noon at a very interesting luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club which will assemble some of the most attractive college women of the city. Of outstanding importance to clubwomen in Decatur and Atlanta is the charming musical comedy to be presented this evening by the Decatur Woman's club featuring Miss Edna George and Ethridge-Freshorn in the leading roles. A real pleasure to members of the Atlanta Drama league will be the reading of Lord Dunsany's comedy, "If," to be given at the Biltmore hotel this afternoon by Mrs. Emma Garrett Morris, one of Atlanta's most gifted and brilliant dramatic readers.

Atlanta's younger social contingent will spend the day in the thoroughly enjoyable way of party-going for this afternoon will bring about two very lovely affairs with Miss Dorothy Dobby's luncheon at her home on Springdale road and Miss Ruth Miller's tea at her home on Palisades road; these parties to be given in honor of Mrs. James Brawner Little. A most interesting social and civic organization—the Camp Fire Girls—are convening in the city this week for a regional conference, wherein plans will be made for the furtherance of their good work throughout the south. Many social gaieties are under way to star the visitors' stay in Atlanta.

W. B. A. Officers To Visit Here.

Miss Frances D. Partridge, of Port Huron, Mich., supreme secretary of the Woman's Benefit association, will be the official guest of the order in Atlanta, Tuesday, November 20. Mrs. Pearl H. Croy, of Birmingham, Ala., supreme regional director of the Woman's Benefit, will also be a guest of the order in Atlanta, and will accompany Miss Partridge on her trip through Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi, where elaborate plans are being made for them. Official headquarters for Atlanta will be in the Henry Grady hotel, at noon Tuesday a luncheon will be given to the official guests and all out-of-town members. At 8 o'clock a class for initiation will be presented Miss Partridge and Mrs. Croy.

Joseph Habersham D. A. R. Will Give Beauty Lecture.

The garden committee of the Joseph Habersham chapters, D. A. R., of which Mrs. George Berry is chairman, will sponsor a free lecture on beauty culture, the subject most interesting to women, Wednesday afternoon, November 14, at 3 o'clock in Habersham hall on Fifteenth street. This lecture will be most instructive and enjoyable. A large attendance is urged. All members, their friends and the public are cordially invited.

Mrs. Rivers Calls Board Meeting.

Mrs. E. Rivers, president of the Woman's board of Oglethorpe university, calls a meeting of the board for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, November 14, in the library of the university.

ALL YOUNGSTERS NEED CEREALS

Sugar as a flavor makes these healthful foods enjoyable

Growing bones and teeth require the health-giving minerals and vitamins that are freely found in grain cereals and breakfast foods. Grains are nature's foods and they supply elements necessary to growth and nutrition. They are excellent in connection with milk, but it is sometimes hard to get children to eat them.

A judicious and reasonable amount of sugar added to these foods will work wonders in making them palatable, tasteful and enjoyable. No ingredient adds so much to the taste appeal of other foods. Sugar adds to the enjoyment of all kinds of fresh fruits and vegetables, so valuable in the diet of growing children. Use sugar as a condiment in making healthful foods acceptable to the palate. Sweetness, as the perfect flavor in foods, stimulates the flow of saliva and of gastric juice, thereby aiding digestion, as well as enjoyment.

Medical authorities warn parents to guard the nutrition of their children. See that your children eat regularly of varied, nutritious foods—thereby being safeguarded against such diseases as tuberculosis. Far better that your child be slightly overweight for its height and age than a single pound underweight. Sound nutrition is absolutely necessary to health and proper development. Mrs. Beatrice Lee Is Luncheon Hostess.

Mrs. Beatrice Lee was hostess at a seated luncheon Saturday preceding the Tech-Vanderbilt football game at her home on Peachtree street, complimenting Mrs. Homer Parker. Beautiful yellow chrysanthemums formed the central decorations for the table. Invited to meet Mrs. Parker were Mrs. Willis A. Sutton, Mrs. Hinton Booth and Miss Almarito Booth.

Mrs. Bunce To Make Address in Asheville.

A number of Atlantans will attend the Southern Medical convention being held in Asheville, N. C., throughout this week, with the woman's auxiliary being represented by Mrs. Allen Bunce, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Medical association, who makes the principal address of today's session held at the Battery Park hotel.

Community Chest Workers Requested To Meet.

Mrs. James Samuel Lumpkin, William E. Huger and Frank Holland, chairmen, request colonels, majors, chairmen, captains and others pledging to work in the Woman's division, in the campaign to raise funds for the Community Chest, beginning Monday, November 16th, are requested to meet at campaign headquarters, fourth floor, Electric and Gas building, at Fairlie street entrance, Thursday morning, November 15th at 10:30 o'clock.

Rebecca Felton, U. D. C., To Hold Rummage Sale.

Rebecca Felton chapter, U. D. C., will hold a rummage at 153 Decatur street, Saturday, November 17, and members and friends are asked to contribute liberally to this sale, which is for the purpose of raising funds for the help and entertainment of Confederate veterans, together with other causes sponsored by the U. D. C. Call Mrs. G. W. Grubbs, Main 3940, or Mrs. R. E. Nash, Decatur 3770-J, and these ladies will call for donations.

English Lecturer To Speak Here.

The Fine Arts club announces one of the most interesting programs of the entire season, scheduled for 3 o'clock Wednesday, November 14, at the Piedmont Driving club, at which Dr. Barnard, of London, Eng., noted authority on English china, will deliver a lecture, supplemented with illustrated motion pictures on "The Life of Josiah Wedgwood."

Mrs. Turner Jones, president of the Fine Arts club, has arranged with Mrs. William Lovett to have a comprehensive display of Wedgwood china in conjunction with Dr. Barnard's lecture. Atlanta women interested in the study of English china will welcome this extraordinary opportunity to hear Dr. Barnard's talk. Members of the club will be admitted on their membership cards. Guest cards may be secured from Mrs. Ewell Gay at her home on Seventeenth street.

Junior Red Cross Meets This Afternoon.

The advisory board of the Junior Red Cross meets Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the office of the American Red Cross, 280 1-2 Peachtree street. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Louis J. Elms, Miss Mary Dickinson will preside. The meeting is of special importance as it is the first to be held after the current enrollment of the juniors and a full report is to be made.

The secretary, Mrs. May Pickrell, will be presented to the members of the board and there are a number of matters demanding special attention.

TUESDAY FASHION DAY AT RICH'S

Dahlia Frocks

Afternoon frock of chiffon . . . in a shade that begins by being primrose and deepens to ruby. Pointed cape collar, swathed hipline. From Sub-Deb Shop . . . $39.50.

The Fur Coat Frock of flat crepe . . . a deep russet and yellow and brown shade that blends to the richness of a late Autumn dahlia. Finely pleated skirt, bolero waist. From Misses' Shop . . . $39.50.

The Dahlia-Frock for evening. Of chiffon with irregular hemline petalled like the flower . . . with huge, shaggy flowers at the waist. Brilliant crimson-color. From Specialty Shop . . . $197.50.

Many Other Gay Frocks in Yellows, Lavenders, Pinks, and Pansy of the Dahlia Shades.

The Dahlia Sisters, nodding their graceful heads together, schemed a clever scheme: to fly from the sere, brown flower gardens at the first touch of frost—to find new dwellings in the lovely sheathes of silken frocks. And so our Dahlia-Shaded frocks were born . . . reincarnations of the glorious Autumn flowers—destined to glint the drabness of winter with their color.

Dubbed the "Fur Coat Frock"—the Tea Dansant Frock—The Gay Frock for Dark Days.

ROBINSON TO ADDRESS NATIONAL GUARD MEET

Hot Springs, Ark., November 12.—(AP)—Hundreds of delegates to the annual convention of the National Guard Association of the United States, which opens here tomorrow for three days, had arrived tonight, some by airplane. An airplane had been sent to bring seven and eight hundred delegates was expected.

Senator Joe T. Robinson, democratic vice presidential candidate, scheduled to follow Assistant Secretary of War C. B. Robbins, who arrived this afternoon by plane from Montgomery, Ala., as a speaker on the program tomorrow afternoon. Senator Robinson has been in Little Rock for several days since returning from a hunting trip. His speech tomorrow will be his first public utterance since the election.

Among important legislative matters being discussed by advisory committees for submission to the convention were three proposed changes which will affect the status of national guardsmen. The changes discussed the retention of commission after service in time of war, the elimination of the word "volunteer" in connection with the mobilization of the guard troops, and the making of the national guard commission the equivalent of the reserve commission, eliminating the latter.

The federalization plan introduced at the St. Paul convention last year by Brigadier General Charles E. McPherson, of Oklahoma City, embodied these changes.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

HELP COMES JUST IN TIME.
BY THOMAS W. BURGESS.

Help that meets the hour of need With quick relief is help indeed.
—Rusty the Fox Squirrel.

Up at the head of a certain lake the Merry Little Breezes of Old Rusty West Wind took it into their heads to go dancing down the middle of the lake. Now when the Merry Little Breezes dance on the water, they make a ripple. You see, the water wants to dance too. A ripple is made up of tiny little waves. Perhaps we ought to call them wavelets.

So the Merry Little Breezes danced down the middle of the lake and a ripple followed them down. Now it wasn't a big ripple, but it was a certain stick to which was clinging Rusty the Fox Squirrel. Behind the first ripple came another ripple, and back of that must have been another, and another. Each little ripple rocked the stick to which Rusty was clinging and gently slapped him in the face. Now, Rusty knew enough about water to know that a little ripple may sometimes grow into a big wave. If the wind should blow hard, the water would become rough. If it should become rough, Rusty knew that he might not be able to reach shore. He would be much more likely to drown. So there was nothing to do but to begin swimming again.

Rusty drew a long breath, let go of that stick and started on, paddling as fast as he could make his legs go. The ripples were not as gentle as they had been at first. They were growing bigger and bigger. Rusty was having hard work to keep the water out of his nose. He was frightened and he felt more and more helpless than now. You see, there was a thing to do but keep on swimming. If he stopped swimming, he would drown. He kept right on, no matter how tired he was. His legs were beginning to ache again.

Paddle, paddle, paddle! Would he never have another chance to rest? Paddle, paddle, paddle! There was something moving on the water ahead of him. What could it be? A little wave broke right in his face and he couldn't see. It might be danger. It might be an enemy of some kind. Well, it wouldn't be any worse to be poked by an enemy than to be drowned.

Rusty knew that he might not be able to reach shore.

He turned his canoe toward the shore and began to paddle. Rusty sat on the bow facing the shore. The wind and the sun soon dried him off, and by the time shore was reached, he was quite himself. The moment the canoe was within jumping distance, Rusty sprang ashore and, with a flirt of his big tail, climbed a tree. Halfway up he turned and looked down at his rescuer, as much to say, "I can't speak your language, but I thank you just the same."

The next story: "The Boy and the Gun."

HUSBAND AND WIFE GIVEN JAIL TERMS ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Macon, Ga., November 12.—(AP)—Ira Carroll, farmer, and his wife were given jail terms in federal court here today by Judge B. S. Deaver, when they were found guilty by a jury of manufacturing whisky. Carroll got four months in jail and the wife was given three months.

Officers testified that they found Mrs. Carroll working at the still in male attire, wearing overalls and a man's hat. They live ten miles out of Macon. The Carrolls claimed that they found the still and that two men were working at it run away. Carroll said he ran after the men, leaving his wife at the still and when he came back he found officers had arrested her.

Cicero Vaughn entered a plea of guilty to whisky violations and was given a year and a day.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk

The price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. Inside each package you get an interesting booklet, "Health and Open Pores."

Eat what you please

Wear what you please

Do what you please

Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes. Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twelve hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men. Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

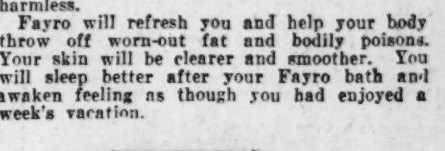

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

A study of the analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts!

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

HERE'S PROOF

Read what Fayro baths have done for others.

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 8 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"I weigh 16 pounds less and feel stronger and sleep better. Fayro is wonderful."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."

"My hips were always too prominent until I commenced Fayro baths. I have lost 12 pounds."

"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 14 pounds in three weeks. I feel better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayro baths have reduced them to normal. Thank you very much."

For obvious reasons, names are not given but every letter published has been carefully examined and addresses will be given on request.

For Sale at Jacobs' Drug Stores and at all drug and toilet counters.

If your dealer is unable to supply you, Fayro will be mailed direct in a plain, unmarked package upon receipt of price. Fayro, Inc., 821 Locust St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Oglethorpe Defeats Mercer, 15-0, in Annual Grid Battle

Gene McEver High Scorer In Conference

Tennessee Ace Heads Pack With Total of 85 Points; Billy Banker Second.

BY EARLE WATSON.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Gene McEver, of that "Hack and Mack" combination, has suddenly vaulted to the front as high scorer of southern conference football.

While the flashy cleat mover from Bristol, Va.'s craggy uplands was running his scoring total to 85 in all games played, Billy Banker, the blond speed broker, of Tulane, was slipping to second place by a scant point, but clinging to his lead on a basis of games played strictly against conference opponents.

McEver has thirteen touchdowns and seven touchdowns after the fact to his credit although he has counted but 32 points within the conference. Banker was unable to score Saturday against Auburn, the Plainsmen being the second team of the season to halt the Green Typhoon. His lone point against the Plainsmen ran his total within the loop to 39.

The waning power of the field goal to decide the issue as in the days of "Merriwell at Yale" became more obscure as the 22 conference teams failed to spin a three-point through the bars Saturday. Hooper, of Virginia Poly, and Harner, of Virginia Military Institute, remained in a colorless deadlock for supremacy with a couple each.

In the matter of hooping the point after, McArthur, of Virginia Poly, had eleven to lead and Abernathy, of Vanderbilt, nosed behind eight placement kicks to hold second place.

The 15 high scorers on a basis of all games played:

Player	Team	Touchdowns	Extra Points	Total Points
McEver	Tennessee	13	7	85
Banker	Tulane	12	7	84
Hooper	Louisiana State	9	0	54
B. Walker	Mississippi	8	0	48
Burns	Florida	8	0	48
White	Washington	7	0	42
Peake	Virginia Poly	7	1	43
Armistead	Vanderbilt	6	3	39
Zohel	South Carolina	6	3	39
Goodbread	Florida	6	0	36
Wynn	Alabama	6	0	36

Hackman	Tennessee	6	0	36

Savannah Is After Georgia-Florida Game in 1930

Savannah, Ga., November 12.—(AP)—Local officials who handled details of arranging the Georgia-Florida football game here this year today were confident that the contest would again be staged in Savannah in 1930.

Alex Cassels, who managed the details of the game, said a conservative estimate of the crowd at Saturday's game could be placed at 17,000.

Mr. Cassels declared himself pleased over the high sportsmanship displayed between the teams and authorities.

Balko Is Winner Of Pimlico Race

New York, November 12.—(AP)—Balko, recently purchased by the Sagamore stable, made a show of a good field in the Pimlico graded handicap, a mile and 70 yards, today. Balko ran his own race and won by four lengths going away. Princess Tina was second and Cross third. The favorite, Ironsides, finished far back.

Balko ran the distance in 1:44 2-5 and chalked up his seventh win in his last eight starts.

Pezumal, paying $50.90 to win, captured the second race with Lactarius second and Nursey Rhymes third. Clyde Van Dusen, fast western colt, won the Orphanage stake for two year olds, $5,000 added, feature of a one day meeting at the 10:00 hour (day) French Lass won second and Pretty Pose third.

Florida's Frosh Win, 33 to 14

Orlando, Fla., November 12.—(AP)—Staging a sensational aerial offensive that completely swept their rivals off their feet, the freshmen Gators of the University of Florida defeated the Clemson Yarlings, 33 to 14, here today. Florida took the lead with a touchdown late in the second period, after Clemson had scored a safety, and from then on the game was a complete walkaway for the Gators.

Petrels Score On First Play Of Hard Game

Large Crowd at Macon Sees Birds Win First S. I. A. A. Tilt of Season.

BY DICK HAWKINS.
Constitution Sports Editor.

Macon, Ga., November 12.—(Special).—Finally the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe have sprouted wings.

For five weeks they have been fluttering about in the Penitentiary and on foreign soil without once really finding their power of flight. Today against the desperate Mercer Bears the Petrels screamed their way to a 15-0 victory with a show of power and brilliant football that was surprising even to the followers of the Gold and Black who saw potential strength in the Petrel camp.

Tonight the Bears return to their Mercer den with the raucous battle scream of the Stormy Birds drumming on their ears. The dormitories no longer carry the big "M" and the little "O" on blazing banners.

First Since 1924.

The Petrels have won their first victory from Mercer since 1924 and in the winning they have flashed a new picture across S. I. A. A. grid-screens. From the first moment of play when big Ass Wall scooped up a fumble and raced 25 yards for a touchdown to the last hectic moment when Mercer was passing under their own goal there was no doubt of the outcome. For four years on end either the Bears or the Petrels have scored in the first minute of play in their annual encounter. Today was no exception to the rule.

Little Jody Matt fumbled on the first play after the kickoff and the score was made.

It was Cy Bell, the blond signal caller, for the Petrels, who thrust his football pointed right at the very hearts of the Bears. Just a few short moments after that first touchdown, Cy took the ball on his own 30-yard mark and ripped it over the goal line and Bell went through for a touchdown standing up.

Magnificent Run.

It was a magnificent run of the type that Cy Bell can make when he is playing his game. Cy was playing today. After Martin made the extra point from placement the score was 13-0 and there it stayed while a desperate Mercer team fought its heart out until late in the final period when Amos Martin punted to the Bear 20-yard line and Jody Matt, attempting to scoop up the ball, only touched it, and it rolled over the goal line. He was forced to ground it for a safety and the count went up two points for Oglethorpe. It was only the great speed of the little Mercer safety man that saved another touchdown, for Petrels were swarming around when he grounded the ball.

There were times when the charges of Harry Robertson were slipping into shoddy ways but for the most part the Petrels showed a greatly improved offense and a well nigh perfect defense. To be sure, there is no Phoebe Smith at Mercer this year but Corbin, Newcomb, Alderman, Matt and Wright are all good ball carriers and they found scant satisfaction in ramming into a superbly fighting Petrel line and a deadly secondary.

Cy Bell Is Star.

For Oglethorpe, Cy Bell did most of the damage to the enemy ranks but little Amos Martin, Big Charlie McKissick and Claude Herrin did their part of the destruction. Lyman Fox, who usually runs rampant beside Cy Bell, was put out of the game file the first few minutes along with Mallard, of Mercer, for engaging in fistfights on the field.

Festivities started promptly with the beginning of the game. As is usual in Mercer-Oglethorpe games there was no time wasted in starting things. Matt, right halfback for the Bears, on the first play after the kickoff, fumbled and Ass Wall, Petrel end, scooped up the ball to run for a touchdown. He carried the ball 25 yards for the counter. Fox missed the try for goal, the score was Oglethorpe, 6; Mercer, 0.

Another Petrel Drive.

Evidently heartened by their early score the Petrels started a hard drive after Wright had punted the Petrel 35-yard line. Cy Bell made first down in the center of the field on two smashes at the line.

Immediately after, Bell fumbled and Matt recovered for the Bears on their own 25-yard line. On the first play Mallard made 14 yards and first down on an end-around play. After three futile thrusts at the line and a couple of imperfect passes Wright punted to Bell on his own 20-yard line. He returned 10, then on the second play he slipped inside left end, cut back and raced 38 yards to the Bears' 27-yard marker before he was forced out of bounds.

Fox made five yards then Bell made first down but the ball was brought back and Mallard of Mercer and Fox of Oglethorpe were put out of the game for slugging. Bell made first down on the next play and Mercer was penalized five yards for offense.

Bell Slips Through.

It was Oglethorpe's ball on the enemy 11-yard line. Cy Bell slipped through outside right tackle for a touchdown and Martin made the extra point from placement. The score was Oglethorpe 13; Mercer 0. Clement kicked off 35 yards to a lower who returned 35 before he was downed on his own 41-yard stripe. Wright ripped through the line for 10 yards and first down on the first play after an incomplete pass from Wright another heave from the same place was intercepted by McLaughlin on his own 41-yard marker. Three times at the line without success. Martin punted 32 yards to Mercer's 9-yard line. Here the quarter ended.

Matt and Wright ripped off nine yards through the line and Newcomb hit the black wall for first down. On the third play Lower cut back off tackle for 25 yards and another first down on the 50-yard stripe. On the first play Newcomb fumbled but recovered for no gain, and Wright punted 50 yards to the Petrel one-yard line, where Bell touched the ball and Branch fell on it across the goal.

The play was called back, however.

The Sports Light

Yale now faces the job of tackling Princeton this Saturday and then taking on a strong Harvard team just a week beyond.

Yale has her work cut out in both assignments. Princeton, after a groggy October start, due partly at least to numerous injuries, found her willing to future rivals in the Ohio State game where a fast, powerful Tiger line kept the jump for the greater part of the game against one of the strongest lines in the mid-west.

Given two additional weeks from the Ohio scrimmage, and it takes no uncanny prophet to figure that by next Saturday the Tiger will have an unusually strong forward wall from end to end, from Lawler to Stinson, who one of the best centers in the game as the anchor man for either flank.

There is nothing weak about that Yale line, when you figure it all out, so this battle of the Tiger and Bulldog forwards should be a clash between two fine lines each keen to get the jump.

Unless Yale can make abnormal advances in her end play, Princeton will have the edge here, as Lawler and Stinson are both experienced wingmen; experienced under heavy fire for more than one season, and experience is a valuable help in end play—more so than anywhere else.

The toughest of all jobs is to develop green ends in a single season. Princeton has a number of these in its line, but Yale has no such advantage in her reserves. Princeton has no Loud and Ellis to throw into action, provided Garvey and Hoban are started.

But when Princeton takes out Norman, Princeton's slump is immediate. It might be noted also that Mike Miles, one of the greatest of all defensive backs, has been injured this season, due to an early injury which hasn't helped him a lot.

Miles is a big help in the Princeton backfield, whether he is back or in play. So Yale's advantage in backfield play over the full route is something to be figured in when the two teams are compared.

Princeton and Yale this fall are just about as they were a year ago, where the balance of power swung upon one play. There did not seem to be a change in the world for the Blue, when Yale stood at midfield with only a few minutes left—fourth down, 12 yards to go and Princeton leading by a touchdown.

Hoban's long, deceptive pass had to go or the stiff was off—and the pass fell into the hands of a Princeton player and a great catch and run by Fishwick. But a winning play of that margin was no particular edge to bank on. To lose it work one game out of three would be a first-class average.

The Yale-Princeton game of last fall was one of the best and one of the most exciting of the season and there is no reason why the next battle shouldn't be just as much of a thriller.

It ought to be one of the best and closest battles of the year and no matter which team any one picks he will be guessing more than experting. Or perhaps guessing and experting are synonymous terms.

Yale and Princeton are not going to help themselves a lot against Harvard and the Navy a week later. A game of the Yale-Princeton type is often a fine throw down for both sides, emotionally as well as physically.

Even as hardy an animal as a football player can only stand so much and not many can remain keyed up for two big games in a row, where the first is a crusher. This doesn't always follow—the ensuing slump—but it is something to figure on.

Marquette has a lot to say about being deprived of her chance to kick a goal after touchdown against Holy Cross. With the score tied at 6-6, Referee Keegan claimed that Marquette had delayed her chance for a winning goal and took the ball to the 40-yard line. On the evidence as presented to date, this ruling was entirely beyond any official's authority, contrary to both the wording and spirit of any rule that might be called into play. Which recalls the fact that in Captain Marquette's case a halfback who can match his stuff with the top of the field.

Not many young coaches have turned out the record book for the late of Notre Dame, has compiled at Villa Nova. Villa Nova's wide margin over Bucknell was quite enough to stamp the team's place in the football sun. Villa Nova had a fine record last season and 1928 has been along the same high plane of high-grade football. Stuhlreiter, one of the smartest of the quarterbacks for many years, has combined fundamental instruction with a deceptive bluff that has been hard for any team to stop.

The results were instantaneous. The sophs swarmed out to avenge the insults and extinguish the taunting fire. Chaos followed and pandemonium held sway for more than an hour as the battle raged. Finally, outnumbered and with the tide of the fray swinging against them, the sophs decided upon craft as a defense against brute strength. Accordingly they gained possession of the university fire hose, planning to drench their foe.

Within ten minutes, however, they were hoisted on their own petard, for the exuberant yearlings wrestled the hose from them and turned its chilling stream on its erstwhile wielders, to drive them from the field, wet and beaten.

Coast League Bans Split Season in '29

Portland, Ore., November 12.—(AP)—After one season of experience with it, directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league in annual session here today voted to abandon the split season and return to the old straight-through schedule of 25 weeks of play. The vote was 5 to 2 against the split season with William Lane, owner of the Hollywood club and sponsor of the split season last year, not voting.

Boston Beats Fordham, Ties For East Lead

Victor Wins Sixth Straight Game With No Losses; Score Is 19 to 7.

Boston, November 12.—(AP)—Boston college ran its string of football victories up to six here today by defeating Frank Cavanaugh's Fordham eleven, 19 to 7, before a large holiday crowd at Fenway park. The victory placed Joe McKenney's outfit on top of the eastern gridiron heap with Carnegie Tech, the only other big college in this section which neither has been beaten nor tied.

McKenney, the youngest college coach in the game, learned all of his football from Cavanaugh, who was coaching Boston college when Joe was a star quarterback.

Fordham Fumbles.

Boston college exhibited great strength early in the first period when a Fordham fumble paved the way for McKenney's first touchdown. The forward line was hurrying all of Fordham's plays and three Boston linemen hit Piculewicz, the Maroon fullback, so hard that he fumbled on his 30-yard line. A 20-yard pass and a run around Fordham's right end brought the first touchdown, made by Cavanaugh, halfback. Kilroy, the Boston center, missed place-kicking the extra point.

Kilroy gave Fordham its chance to score in the second period when he interfered with a Boston college punt, which was ruled dead on his 40-yard line instead of deep in Fordham territory. Deline, quarterback, opened the Fordham aerial attack by tossing a 26-yard pass to Fontana, halfback.

After three line plays, Deline completed a lateral pass to Cullen, who was downed just over the Eagles' goal line. McKenney quickly dispatched a substitute to rearrange the Eagles' aerial defense and when Deline tried another long one to Cullen, the pass was intercepted by Dixon, who raced 55 yards for the second B. C. touchdown. Kilroy place-kicked the extra point.

The final score resulted from another bit of McKenney's strategy. Noting that the Fordham forwards, during the final period, were hastening down to cover their punts, the Boston college coach sent in Bronson for Wilkewski at left guard, with instructions to give way to the Maroon linemen and concentrate on the kicker. So well did McKenney's players follow orders that when Bronson, who had replaced Piculewicz at fullback, tried to punt again he was surrounded by all of the Boston college linemen who blocked the kick after smothering his defensive backs. Bronson fell on the ball, which had rolled over the Fordham goal line for a touchdown.

During the closing minutes, three completed passes gave the New Yorkers a first down on Boston's 10-yard line. Deline tried another pass which was intercepted and Boston punted out of danger.

Crazed by Blow, Player Vaults Fence

Jacksonville, Fla., November 12.—(AP)—Crazed by a blow on the head received early in the first period of the Robert E. Lee-Palatka high school football game here today, George Buck, Palatka halfback, ran from the field and scaled a distant fence before he could be stopped.

Buck untangled himself after a line rush, leaped to his feet and started raising away. The game was halted while players ran to capture the Palatka player when he was about to vault a second fence.

Brought back to the field, Buck finally regained his senses, but was not allowed to participate further in the game.

Robert E. Lee won the game, 25 to 5.

G. M. C. Defeats Madison Aggies

Milledgeville, Ga., November 12.—(Special).—Coach Wally Butts brought a fighting Madison Aggie football team to his home town here today but it could not cope with the rejuvenated G. M. C. eleven which pushed over a score of 37 to 0.

The cadets showed great strength in their end runs, and forward passes. The last touchdown came as a result of a blocked punt by Gunn who fell on it back of the Aggies goal line. Wynn, Rich and Robinson did most of the gaining for the cadets. Prince at end contributed the best defensive work for the cadets. Robinson at center and Higdon at the other end played jam up. Moss, halfback for the Aggies made some pretty runs. Martin also played well for the visitors, "Breezy" Wynn of the cadets contributed the greatest thrill of the game when he intercepted a forward pass, standing on his own goal line, and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. The cadets will play the Monroe Aggies in Monroe Friday.

Badgers Hope For Dry Field Against Iowa

Aerial Attack Will Be Used in Effort To Take Title of Big Ten.

Chicago, November 12.—(AP)—Coach Glen Thielthwaite, the gloomy gridiron strategist of Wisconsin, asks for only one "break" when he sends his big Cardinal eleven against Iowa Saturday—a dry field.

The Badgers do not hope to cope with the Hawkeyes in the art of punting, but are perfecting their aerial and running attack and a dry field is necessary.

Today, for the first time in many seasons, Wisconsin started its preparation for a football game with a long scrimmage. Coach Thielthwaite gave his men several new plays. Several men, Engelhorn at tackle, Ahlberg at center, and Dunaway, at halfback, were lifted from the reserves to the varsity to give it more man power to stop Iowa's crushing attack.

Other conference teams engaged in light workouts. Michigan's varsity was given a complete rest while the reserves worked over plays to be used against Michigan State. Coach Tad Wieman shifted Hughes, fullback; Geister, quarterback, and Cooke, tackle, from the reserves to the first squad. Geister made three touchdowns for the reserves against Alma Saturday and Wieman believes he may supply the long lost scoring punch for the varsity.

Minnesota, which meets the Haskell Indians Saturday, had a long workout, with considerable attention paid to forward passes. Illinois went through a tag scrimmage and several men were worked over plays to be used against Michigan State. Coach Tad Wieman shifted Hughes, fullback; Geister, quarterback, and Cooke, tackle, from the reserves to the first squad. Geister made three touchdowns for the reserves against Alma Saturday and Wieman believes he may supply the long lost scoring punch for the varsity.

Georgia, Weak And Battered, Renews Drills

L. S. U. Next in Line for Bulldogs After Bad Treatment at Florida's Hands.

BY BOB SHERROD
Athens, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—A badly crippled Georgia football team weakly began preparations for their fourth straight conference game today. A large number of the gridironers were so badly bruised and battered that they did not report for Monday's practice session, which was limited to signal practice and general limbering up exercises.

Although quite a few players were forced to be absent from the afternoon practice, practically all of them attended the lengthy lecture, in which Coach McWhorter outlined the team's strategy for the coming season.

The Georgians are expected to go through a stiff scrimmage this afternoon, the first of a series before the L. S. U. Tiger comes to Sanford field Saturday.

The L. S. U. game will mark the last appearance of the 1928 Bulldogs in the first game. After the game with a member undefeated within the conference the Red and Black squad goes to Birmingham on Thanksgiving day, and to Atlanta on December 1, to inaugurate the new season.

With a battered team, Coach Mehres task of grooming his players for the next three games is not an easy one. Any gains, that the Georgia mentor is fairing that previous grimoir and Georgia is very likely to make a much better showing in the coming frays than that which disappointed the fans in the previous game.

The sick list that is to be contended with includes Smith, Maffett, Me-

Tray, Hill, Frisbie, Haley, Nixon, and numerous other men who are less seriously afflicted.

Frost at Jacksonville.
Jacksonville, Fla., November 12 (AP)—The first frost of the season was reported here early today by the United States weather bureau. The thermometer registered 50 degrees at Jacksonville, while at weather bureau stations outside the city the mercury dropped to 37. Fair and warm weather was predicted for today and tomorrow.

Sugar.

New York, November 12.—With a continued good inquiry from refiners, raw sugar advanced 1-16c early today to a basis of 3.96 for spots, duty paid. At the level there were sales of about 175,000 bags of Cuban, 28,700 bags of Porto Rico and 7,700 bags of St. Croix, all in near-basis positions. These purchases seemed to have satisfied the more immediate requirements of refiners, however, and at the close there were additional offerings at the same level, and it was believed that bids at fractionally less would have been accepted.

Early sugar futures were more active, covering against sales as a result of heavy buying by refiners. In the spot market, followed by reactions and final prices. The sugar net declines of 2 to 4 cents. The spot market opened 1 to 4 points higher and at one time active positions were 3 to 4 points above the previous close. This upturn was due to active covering principally in the near-by positions and some buying in commission houses. Influenced by the further advance in the spot market and the firmness abroad. In the later trading prices were under increased offerings and selling by houses with Cuban and European connections, final quotations being at the lowest of the session.

No changes were made in refined prices with, all refiners accepting business at $5.10, but tomorrow prices will be advanced to $5.20 for fine granulated. A better inquiry was reported, promoted by the announcement of the advance.

Dry Goods.

New York, November 12.—(Cloth markets were quiet and prices firm today. Prints and broadcloths were moderately busy on small orders, and for deliveries to the close of the year, and a little inquiry for small lots of things was current. Little was done in the goods, due partly to the holiday close of mills in New Bedford and Fall River, although southern mills reported a demand for marquisettes and Canton. Cotton yarn markets were quiet and firm. Slaps were quiet with a protective shade of 24 quoted in unofficial cables. It being a public holiday in Calcutta, raw trading was dull with prices fairly dry.

New York, November 12.—(AP)—Rather a sharp advance on covering together with trade and commission house buying promoted by private reports of a substantial increase in the consumption of cotton for October as compared with September was followed by partial reactions in the cotton market here today under realizing. After selling up to 15 points higher, the market closed at that figure with the general market closing barely steady at net advances of 9 to 15 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 11 to 17 points on covering by sellers of late last week and a moderate trade continued to be accompanied by some commission house buying. Sentiment seemed to be influenced by reports that a trade authority estimated the consumption of cotton in this country for October at 60,000 bales compared with 49,221 reported by the census bureau for September. There were reports that another authority had estimated the consumption at 55,000 to 57,000 bales, but the larger figures seemed to make a considerable impression on the market and prices soon sold up to 10.60 for December and 10.44 for May, or 23 to 27 points net higher.

Demand slackened at these figures, which encountered some resistance, but the market eased off later in the day under a comparatively small volume of offerings. December closed at nearly the opening quotations, while May reacted to 19.31, making declines of 10 to 15 points with the high level of the morning and last prices were at about the lowest except on December, which appeared to be sustained by trade buying to fix prices on call contracts.

At the close December was 7 points over January compared with a difference of 5 points at the close of Saturday. Business here was probably restricted by the holiday in New Orleans and Chicago. Private cables reported covering with local and continental buying and a comparative scarcity of contracts in Liverpool, but said that sales of cotton cloths and yarns were smaller. Exports today 44,277, making 2,757,000 so far this season. Port receipts 58,923. U. S. port stocks 2,272,858.
